And you should see your computer specs! :)

CeilingCat - December 25, 2009, 4:44 pm

Oliver, You should upgrade to SP3, it's better (at least that's what everyone says lol)

OX!DE - December 25, 2009, 7:16 pm

Well this is my Windows PC for some reason system information is not showing Model :|

(Dec 25, 2009 07:38 AM)NeTwork Exploit Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) why whats so good about it?You get all the latest updates, Vista runs faster, it upgrades the kernel to make it more stable and finally: All the programs that wouldn't run in Vista WILL run in Vista.

That's what's so good about it.

++Alofoke++ - December 26, 2009, 3:11 am

get a 64 bit version so you can use the whole 4gb

Those aren't even good specs by today's standards. The 9600GT is a poor quality card.

Do you even know how to turn your computer on?

I've been trying to change the background colors to windows like the System Properties, Control Panel, Personalization, etc. like you have it on yours, but I can't figure it out. How did you do it. Side panel in System Properties as well. Thanks.
