Thread: [My journey to making money online! \[Will update often\]](#)

Rhizoid - January 24, 2012, 6:31 pm

So Yesterday I decided to get back into the loop and try to earn online. I used to earn big using blackhat techniques, but they always failed me somewhere down the road. I then moved on to a normal job working part-time in a pc repair shop... lets just say working in a small metal building where it can be 100°F in the summer without air conditioning for $8 a hr is pretty sucky. I am ready to start a legitimate whitehat money making business online and SUCCEED at it! I bought what I need to start yesterday, and I'm going to put my time and effort into making it a reality!

My goals:

ONLINE

Make $10 a day

Make $20 a day

Make $50 a day

Make $100 a day

Make 100+ a day

OFFLINE

Continue my Tech classes

Succeed in making over minimum wage with a job

Help my Dad with his business

Buy my own car

Get accepted into a good College

Find that perfect someone :)

I will update this like a journal of how it's all going for as long as I feel like it :)

Wish me luck HF! No one else believes in me..

Doesn't matter if someone doesn't believe in you. As long as you believe in yourself.

Goodluck in your earnings man! ?

I remember when I started making money online, it was hard starting but I make a shit load of money now. :)

This place is to brag once you reach your goals my friend, not for a diary, but good luck anyway
