I would really like to find a great admin page finder application to work with linux. While there are small perl/python scripts to find admin pages, i haven't found anything that takes this application to the next level. If anyone can find a great app for finding admin pages on target websites please let me know, i would prefer the app be for linux, but if it is for windows then i will just have to live with it. Who knows...if the admin finder is for windows maybe i can get it to work on linux with wine??

Thanks everyone.

Also: How do you use the admin page location? Putting it on Havij doesn't help. Surely nooby as hell question, but I'm searching for an answer.
