Thread: [Dear Omni \[Omni Only\]](#)

ranSKE - December 29, 2009, 10:09 pm

Im wanting to talk to omni only.
No one else comment!

Hello.

Well i just recently signed up to hackforums, not long ago. I donated to get HFL33T. Well i made a comment saying "why does post count matter" And everyone started to -rep me. I am pretty sad about this matter. Also its rep abuse. Im wondering if you could do anything about this?

P.S: Im not crying..

Thanks.

Obviously most of the neg reps came from selling stuff you got for free, quit complaining, it's just gunna get you neg repped even more

(I don't care that you said "Only omni post", that shit isn't gunna happen either way)

Why don't you send a PM if you really want to talk to him? That's what PM's are for.

I asked for omni only. I do not sell free stuff as sparky [Ub3r member] verified. I am angry as these people only guess.

Any admin can verify (Dec 29, 2009 11:12 PM)Shadow Soul Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Why don't you send a PM if you really want to talk to him? That's what PM's are for.
He doesn't answer back.

Well he should. We all donate, we should have our own say..

Why would you do this? Do you not realize he is busy? Also from what I can see Omni hates it when people post on this forum "Rules, Announcements, News and Feedback" about bull shit.

Like Shadow Soul said, if this was really just for Omni then you would've pm'd him. It looks like you're just asking for attention, and the attention you'll receive from this you really won't want.

I am reading your rep ranske. Some are opinions which is perfectly fine. Flaming ones that do not state a opinion and just say some statement about you should probably be Rep abuse. Not sure. Wait till a admin sees this.

This is not a democracy or any kind of government. You did something stupid and got neged. End of story.

Omni is fine with people posting on this forum. Questions for Omni people post on here since he is busy and can't deal with any more pms. Usually a admin will see this before omni gets to it.

Thanks for your sensible answer ?

Locked until Omni, if he decides, posts to answer your question.

And so do all the people that left you reputation. I respect their right to leave you reps just the same as I want to protect members from abuse.

I read all the comments and removed one. Most are reasonable and as long as they aren't flaming or blatant lies staff won't delete them.

My advise is you try to get in touch with some that left you negatives and ask kindly that they be removed and that you understand their opinion and respect it.

Most of the reps appear to be about your whining and marketplace activity. You'll just have to deal with the reputation you have earned without staff assistance.
