

Forum:Hack Forums

Thread: Virus in system32 \(every 24 hour\)

Calle1337 - July 2, 2008, 7:09 am

Guys i have a problem, every 24 hour some fuc virus infect 2 files in system32. I have a good rpogram called Trojan Remover that finds the infected files all the time and rename them and delete the virus but then 24 hours later 2 new files get infected and i have searched through the computer with Trojan Remover and norton anti-virus 2005 (not so good) but cant find the infecter. the virus slow down the computer little and shows 1 popup every 5 hour or something but if i let it stay longer it destroy the dll completely so i wounder if any one knows something i can do to find the infecter and destroy it.

I am happy for answers?

Jake13 - July 2, 2008, 9:29 am

Probably either an infected file the Anti-virus can't get, or a downloader.

I suggest Malwarebytes anti-virus, good for trojans.

TILO - July 2, 2008, 9:59 am

shut your computer down, no files will ever be infected

TILO - July 2, 2008, 10:00 am

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=16614>

farbod - July 2, 2008, 2:51 pm

TILO Wrote:shut your computer down, no files will ever be infected

lol good one

Calle1337 - July 3, 2008, 7:27 am

i have fixed the problem now, thanks Jake13