Hello,

A site called: <http://www.chatpit.com> with a java applet on the site is hosting an illegal chat software using your servers. The server ip that is being hosted from your servers is: 67.19.116.210 which is a windows 2003 rdp connection. The chat software they are hosting has been illegally altered using <http://www.digichat.com> chat application. The version of chat that they have altered is digichat v5.0. They do not have the means or right to be hosting an illegal chat server that they did not purchase from the rightful owner. As that being said, they do not have correct licenses to be hosting it as well.

That's a side note, they also have people ddosing the server as well 67.19.116.210 causing softlayer.com clients to experience lag. Another thing i'd like to mention inside the chat server with the ip of 67.19.116.210 on chatpit.com they are allowing porn content, inappropriate talk such as incest, rape, not to mention spamming of malicious virus links as well. There have been other reports of illegal credit card fraud being posted within the chat server of 67.19.116.210. If you see the content of on chatpit.com and login, you can see for your self. It's suppose to be a teen site 17-21? Not to mention lot's of people login, that aren't of age that see this non sense.

If you give me a day or two i can provide pictures of malicious links, credit card fraud, and other illegal and innapropriate things that have been posted within the chat server of 67.19.116.210. I wish this to stop, my son doesn't need to be in this server, i have blocked his internet from accessing this site, but please help the other parents out that can't supervise their children at all times. This server 67.19.116.210, does not need to be accessed at all. It's a disgrace to the softlayer company and to it's client's.

Regards,
Neal
