Thread: [\[TUTORIAL\]Youtube RAT Spreading\(High Success Rate\)](#)

Reznov80 - February 27, 2012, 12:47 am

HOW TO SPREAD YOUR RAT THOUGH YOUTUBE

This is a way i have been using to spread my RAT and so far it has been very successful. Here's how it works.

Step 1: Create your server, Change the icon to an .mp3 file and spoof its extension and upload it to a file sharing website

Step 2: Find a popular song (It's even better if it's recently released)

Step 3: Make a video with it with movie maker or any other program of your preference

Step 4: Upload it to youtube and make sure you have a lot of tags so it gets many views

Step 5: Add an annotation in the video saying that the link to the mp3 of the song is in the description

Step 6: Post the link to your server in the description and you're done.

Simple and effective. And this method has the advantage that you can target a specific group of people. For example:

If you want 16-20 year old girls: Justin Bieber, Ke$ha, Lady Gaga Men: Drowning Pool, Metallica, Iron Maiden and so on...

This is something I thought up on my own and I chose to share it with the community on HF.

Kosimo - February 27, 2012, 1:22 am

I've seen this on the forums multiple times but nonetheless a good method

JDIGz - February 28, 2012, 4:16 pm

Great idea, I've done this with free to play video games and cheat engine to make a vid of it looking like I'm making a bunch of gold with cheat engine and people would download my file thinking it was the cheat!

Shlazzam - February 28, 2012, 6:05 pm

Great method I've used it plenty of times.

dread5000 - March 1, 2012, 3:22 pm

I have a problem spoofing the file. It seems when I manually do the unicode thing it comes out fine, but when downloaded, it reverts back to being backwards. Anyone have any insight on this issue?

Transported - March 1, 2012, 3:26 pm

I can't spoof my extension either, help please? I'm using Fileave.

Hesco - March 1, 2012, 4:32 pm

Dropbox works for me. Also, you really should FUD your server. I recommend Cryptex

Lonely - March 4, 2012, 6:32 am

Good method. Also using fake "Hacking tools" and fake game hackers seem to work out very good for me.

siffionq - April 24, 2012, 6:20 am

Nice idea, simple but effective. I will definitely give this one a try.

????A?? - April 24, 2012, 11:29 am

Great TUT and share, but seems very self explanatory. Most people who rat and atleast know what youtube is can think of this for them self.

labrynto - April 24, 2012, 11:39 am

Thanks man, didn't know about this method, definitley worth trying out!

nenepas - May 27, 2012, 4:10 am

You should take note of the date before posting on threads you find from searching.

James Kirk - June 15, 2012, 11:59 pm

Bad method, you have to think, if they have fallen for this, how many other fakes have they fallen for first...? So theres a high chance that you'd get someone elses bot, and this method isn't very good anyways.

Banzaii - June 16, 2012, 6:40 am nice method, I will have to try it ;)

domien - June 16, 2012, 6:42 am

Cool trick, will try it later thanks!

Never use dropbox! It's same shit as virustotal... there are many websites for direct download. Use <http://up2x.com/> or <http://ge.tt/> and many more..

pyan - June 16, 2012, 8:20 am

Cyahnidde - June 17, 2012, 8:36 am

How would I go around the youtube copyright claims? Every song I've tried to upload so far has copyright.

I got a few videos up, but after I spoof the extension my server doesn't work anymore. Suggestions?

D3xtr0 - August 24, 2012, 11:26 pm

so its just to change the icon thats it?

dsMadKilla11 - August 28, 2012, 3:42 am

This method may work but you need to make sure people dont get suspicious about the music file. Most don't care as long as they have a link. Those who make lyrics videos regularly would find this one pretty convenient. Gonna try out it out later

Avocado - August 28, 2012, 3:44 am failsafe method, can vouch this method works all day. Just copy peoples lyric videos as your own and boom downloads till the guys come home.

pupca - August 28, 2012, 4:49 am

Zip it up and have people download the ZIP file that also includes a text file giving them simple instructions, so it feels more legit.
