Thread: [\[TUT\] How to get someones IP \(2 ways\)](#)

Raptor F150 - February 28, 2012, 4:52 pm

Hey HF, I already made a Thread about how to get someones IP but this time ill show u another way, so ill post the 2 ways to get it :)

Option Number 1 (Link/URL)

Its very easy just follow these steps

1. Go to <http://www.myiptest.com>
2. Then click on "Get Someones IP"

There will be appear a link for the person you wanna know his IP and one for you, copy your link and paste it on a new tab, and if u want you can put a redirect link for him in the option 2.

3. Click on "Click here to make a tiny url" (This is optional but i recommend you to do it because with the tiny url it looks less suspectius) now just send the link to the person you wanna know his IP adress and when you think he already clicked it refresh your link(URL) and there will be appear his IP.

Option Number 2 (E-Mail)

Its also very easy lol (This is on MSN, i dont know if it works too on Yahoo Mail or G-Mail)

1. Send him a e-mail (Tell him something that you think he will response)
2. When he sent u the e-mail, right click on it
3. Select "View Message Source"

And there will be appear the ip just like this

X-Originating-IP: [187.164.87.65]

and thats all. sorry for my bad english hope you understand it :)

I don't know if this was copy & pasted or 100% written by you but.

-(If it is your guide)

Nice useful tips, easy to read and follow, nice find.

-(If it isn't)

Credit were you got it from and try to credit the creator all the time.

Harassmentpanda - March 9, 2012, 4:48 pm

Thanks, these are good strategies for getting IPs, you could also use commview though, if you cant get the victim to click a link or reply to an email, try finding a thread on it if you dont know how.

Yea I'd imagine, also did you get a ping from facebook when you went to check out the list? It said facebook was the first person to click it.

Also how risk is it to take down someone's home connection? Like if I do it from behind a VPN, and use CMD to do it, will I risk getting caught?

aloneak - March 11, 2012, 2:32 pm
