

Forum:Hack Forums

Thread: AA Reviewer #7- Dead Leaves

Dr Achtogonapus - March 6, 2012, 10:37 pm

[img]http://nyanimg.com/images/Vs2h.png[/img]

Dead Leaves is a comedy, sci-fi, adventure, psychological, anime movie that was released January 16th, 2004.

[img]http://nyanimg.com/images/uMoa.png[/img]

Dead leaves is about a girl and a guy who has a T.V. for a head, who wake up in the middle of the desert in future earth, with no recollection of what previously happened. Also they're naked. So after they get their bearings back a bit, they get clothed and decide to go on a rampage and cause as much destruction as they can. Obviously the police don't like this and chase after them. After a good run, they get caught and are sent to a really weird prison, that is located on the moon and is named Dead Leaves. After a few days of going through prison life in Dead Leaves, they decide to they are going to break out, with the help of all the other inmates of course.

[img]http://nyanimg.com/images/hfCJz.png[/img]

Retro- Retro is one of the main characters of the anime. He is the guy with the T.V. for a head. He has a reckless attitude, and doesn't really think things through before doing them.

Pandy- Pandy is the other main character of the story, only the girl. She's a bit more relaxed than Retro is. She also tends to think things through before she does things.

[img]http://nyanimg.com/i/Llipv.png[/img]

The animation style in this anime was more sharp than most animes. Lines and figures had a harder edge to them, though movements and what not were still smooth flowing, everything just had a harder edge to it. At times it also seems that is cell shaded, like Borderlands.

[img]http://nyanimg.com/images/98i3.png[/img]

I have not seen much anime that is relatively close to this one at all. I can really only think of FLCL to be even remotely close, but that's only because of the goofy level. But here's what MyAnimeList has to say.

Black Hole - March 6, 2012, 11:04 pm

OH SHIT! I watched this on Netflix!! Was funny and trippy as hell man! Fucking loved it, great review!

Charismatic - March 7, 2012, 9:17 am

Good review man, love this anime^ i did watch it rather recently.

Rakshasa - March 7, 2012, 10:38 am

Nicely done man.

Sounds interesting, definitely going to watch this soon ;)