

Forum:Hack Forums

Thread: Geniusforums.net | A forum for anyone with a brain! | Get paid to post!

Chuiy - March 8, 2012, 3:05 pm

Geniusforums.net | Here you will not be judged based on the color of your skin, the way you speak, nor your religious orientation. You will simply be judged on the way you present your ideas. Present them well.

<http://www.geniusforums.net/forum>

This is a fresh community, with few members. It has a very professional layout and I am looking to get it kick started. You can literally talk about ANYTHING here. It is a forum based on debate, and it encourages you to challenge popular belief and think outside of the box. If you think you have an intelligence that no one recognizes, you should come to this forum and join the new, fresh community where you will be treated with respect and equality; and make a name for yourself.

The perks? I am currently paying the first three members who make 25 posts $3, and the first FIVE members that refer five users who make 10 posts $5. I am also looking for site staff and an administrator; the only requirement to put your name up for consideration is 50 posts.

DragonsGoMOOO - March 8, 2012, 6:59 pm

If you pay people to post in your forums it gives the vibe that your forum is useless and not unique at all.

I would recommend dropping the pay to post thing and look into forum promotion boards.

<http://forumpromotion.net/services.php>

Other than that you have a great looking forum theme and a nice paid domain name. I hope your site goes far :)

Chuiy - March 8, 2012, 7:04 pm

Well to be honest my forum is pretty useless at the moment, no one wants to sign up because it is so new, everyone sees it as a waste of time. I am hoping if I can pass the initial stages where it is barren then users will begin to start trying it out. The forum is very unique and it is really a POC. Thank you though, I really appreciate it :) I will also check out that link.

DragonsGoMOOO - March 8, 2012, 7:52 pm

(Mar 8, 2012 08:04 PM)Chuiy Wrote: CITE Well to be honest my forum is pretty useless at the moment, no one wants to sign up because it is so new, everyone sees it as a waste of time. I am hoping if I can pass the initial stages where it is barren then users will begin to start trying it out. The forum is very unique and it is really a POC. Thank you though, I really appreciate it :) I will also check out that link.

I can give you a few tips.

1. your domain name has forums in it so you should think about removing the /forums just having the forum installation in your main directory.
2. You dont need members to start threads, post your own and make sure your forum has 0 empty forum categories.
3. Make sure you reply asap to members posting on your forums and have some sort of welcome message.
4. Find a way to keep people on the site.
5. Join "topsites" and do some SEO... get affiliate links for your keywords... also if your not using adsense join traffic exchanges to boost your alexa ranking. <http://trafficspammer.com/> / <http://www.easyhits4u.com/>

6. Get your site indexed

<https://ssl.bing.com/webmaster/SubmitSitePage.aspx>

<https://www.google.com/webmasters/tools/home?hl=en>

<http://freewebsubmission.com/>

... hope this helps :)

Devixx - August 3, 2016, 11:03 pm

very well made and high quality forum, well done.

Grem - August 3, 2016, 11:06 pm

It's down, I cant connect to the site.

-Nath - August 4, 2016, 12:41 am

(Aug 3, 2016 11:03 PM)Devixx Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) very well made and high quality forum, well done.

(Aug 3, 2016 11:06 PM)Grem Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) It's down, I cant connect to the site.

Possibly check the date of the thread...

Layla - August 4, 2016, 12:46 am

We got a couple of grave diggers, boys.

We don' like your kind 'round her'.