Thread: [YouTube View Boosting \[Cheapest prices\]](#)

Innovus - March 14, 2012, 8:33 pm

This is not using Magic Views or SpK's Super View whatever. Faster method, but same concept.

Anyway, $10 gets you 100k+ views. I ballpark it because I never added a view counter since they aren't all that accurate. Generally you'll end up with a lot more views (like 200-250k), however 100k is the guaranteed number you're paying for. You'll notice the views updating around 50-70k each time over the course of 48 hours. Within 24 hours you should have at least 70k views, then within the next 24 hours it will rise to somewhere above 100k-200k.

If this method is patched your money will be returned. If your video is removed, it is not my fault and you will not get a refund. I have ed 3 videos to the #1 and #2 spot within their categories and none of those have been banned, so I do not believe you will get banned.

If you're interested post here.

Before you ask, yes they are mobile views. I suggest turning off statistics. I do not offer likes, subs, comments, or favorites. Get them somewhere else. If you have doubt about my ability to view boost PM me and I will send you a few videos I've done.

First customer gets 100k views for $5

I'm definitely interested in this.

Is their any way I can get the views in days? Not just at once?

I can drip them out for you over a few days, but it wouldn't change detection or anything along the lines of that.

The public view boosting programs don't work for a lot of people. I couldn't get any of them to work for me so I had to make my own. If people want to purchase the service they can, pretty sure this is considered sales trashing.

That is the true first method people found to start boosting views again. Also how do you figure I am sales trashing? Do you hate the people here on HF? The only thing I was doing was warning them that they shouldn't and don't have to pay for something here they can easily do themselves. If anyone is at fault here it is you. You are asking for people to pay you for something they could do themselves. You really want to contribute and do something for these fellow HF members? Post a thread giving away your method and showing them as well as helping them do this themselves. To many people are selling views with these bots and methods and they are pathetic and greedy. Instead of forcing these worthless sales down members throats we should act as an actual community and simply share the knowledge of it all and take advantage of it while we can.

Alright, in that case, can I have your YouTube bot and all the accounts you use?

There is no such thing as a bot that just gives likes and comments, etc without accounts to go with it. Lol. Also Everything I have, is available for free in giveaway threads. Unlike yourself. Still being a non contributing and greedy member. Regardless, these mobile views methods and bots are all patched now so you can close and or junk your thread now.
