Posted this shit all over the interweb and i get zero help or attention. like fuck i feel like am stuck in an island isolated from ever improving without the fucking feedbacks i need. Please if anyone has time to help me what i'm looking for improvement then do so. i dont need know god dam ratings i know it's shit. but i need to turn this shit into the shyt instead of just a heap of shit.

I know there some basic flaws visually, But i need some inspiration. Like how do i improve the font to stickout less and just be naturally embedied with the background in a way. Also as yous ee in the middle of my Charecter. I haven't yet done any special effects, blending, or added a gradiate. I just kept it there, for you guys to decide which would do best. I need some real good help please.

Change the opacity of the font to about 80%.

Blur the background about 2 pixels

Add a border

Make another layer of the image in back of the current one and stylize it so that it makes like a glow.

You should try add some smudge and some blur!
