Thread: [Scrollable Quotes \[HF Userscript \] \[V 1.0.0 \]](#)

_DeNy - March 16, 2012, 2:40 pm

Tired of those people who post replies to GIANT quotes? Well, this script will solve that problem in the simplest way possible.

Note: This also works for codes, not just quotes.

How to install:I recommend Firefox with the Greasemonkey extension or Google Chrome with the (REQUIRED) Tampermonkey extension (REQUIRED).

Firefox: <http://userscripts.org/about/installing>

Opera: <http://www.howtogeek.com/howto/3986/set-up-user-scripts-in-opera-browser/>

Internet Explorer:

<http://www.ghacks.net/2008/11/16/install-greasemonkey-scripts-in-internet-explorer/>

Google Chrome / Chromium: Install TamperMonkey from the Chrome Web Store. Then follow the instructions for installing under FireFox.

Cyba - March 16, 2012, 2:43 pm

Damn bro, I love it! <3

Thanks for charing.

That's something I would expect to be embedded in the site. I'll grab this, thanks.

Uhm? I don't really know how to respond to that.

Would you like me to scan a .js file?

I'll be charing a lot of the scripts I made... Just have to update a lot of them. :P

This is pretty nifty, I'm not gunna' lie. It'll help some users, though I personally don't need it.

It automatically does it for code. [code] and [quote] use the same HTML formatting (Easier on me. :))

[illegible]

Spafic you are doing some sick stuff lately :o

The script is clean and safe to install. (You can add that vouch to post 1 if you like.)

OP must be reading my mind or something, I already made this. I might still release mine, because the implementation is a little better if I recall correctly.

Explain a better way of adding a max-height variable to a blockquote tag and making it scrollable. The only way I can think of making it better would be allowing the end user to decide how big the quote areas should be.

Nice release Spafic :) keep up the good work.

This format applies to every quote on the page, and will only apply to quotes larger than 200px in height.
