Official Middle man Thread. Are you in need?

I have seen many thread about people asking "refer me a middle man", "Need trusted middle man!!" So i decided i would make a thread for it. If you feel sketched out about a deal/dealer, please come to this thread and i will forsure assist you on it. This is to ensure your deal will go perfectly smooth. I have many vouches and am known for being a good guy by many people on this forum, so please don't hesitate.

I feel like this was a much needed thread to make sure everyone is getting their end of the deal, and to ensure safe transactions.

I will middle man with currencies, virtual goods(codes etc), physical goods(if yes, then the countries etc). (Pretty much anything) just post and let me know.

If you are in need of a middle man, please post here. Then on, i will pm you, and we will talk about it.

Official, meaning instead of people making a million of their own, refer to this one. If you disagree with my wording, please speak up and i will change it.

Justice is a great guy , and he will be a great MM.

Water - March 17, 2012, 9:36 pm

Justice is a trusted person. (just look at his username)

Pocky - March 17, 2012, 9:37 pm

Vouch for Justice. Legit middleman. :)

Also, Include in OP the currencies/goods you'd be able to MM. Like currencies, virtual goods(codes etc), physical goods(if yes, then the countries etc).

And your terms as to how the buyer/seller will pay, in what ratio and what % etc.

Good luck with this.

I vouch for justice aka Justin. Very trustful and friendly user.

Justice - March 17, 2012, 11:13 pm

Thanks for all the vouches guys.

If anyone needs a middle man, let me know. =]

User^

This user just negged me saying "Very shady. I would reccommed all members to deal with MUCH caution. DO NOT TRUST THIS GUY. I almost lost 40$ to this guy!!! Would not reccomend using him as a MM or doing any deals with him." in which i've never talked to him before?? please ignore it. lol Rep abuse at it's finest. HF has really gone down hill -__-

Just out of curiosity and to help what seems like a good at heart member out, what exactly qualifies you for this?

I see the proud display of groups in the Illuminati and Propitious, which is nice, but there are many members, especially those who are from an older scene that don't take much value in these newer bought groups.

The thread seems rather lacking in effort and professionalism and honestly doesn't seem like something too serious.

If you are actually desiring to help, you'll need to put a serious effort in explaining what you will do and make it appear as if you are treating the service seriously.

I see quite a bit of a good member in you, but there are those immature posts and or threads I see which could really make someone question the value and trustworthiness of your service.

A nice member who can get pretty aggravated at times could honestly swing in two different directions.

A person that might be able to be swindled when MM'ing because he may not know proper procedures.

A chain reaction with customers if you don't know who to choose and what currencies to choose in currency exchange.

Something going wrong and taking off for a while once something does go bad.

I'm a fairly cautious person and once offered myself in a similar service but felt that the idiocy I had to deal with mixed with such a small pay off was hardly worth it.

Many people on this site do not gather simple information or research users whatsoever.

In 5-10 minutes of looking through your posts, I feel I can pretty accurately depict the type of person you are and your intentions.

If I did not get good intentions from you and wish for you to analyze what I said in this post, trust me, I wouldn't have bothered writing all of this out.

Best regards,

Wolves

Wrong forum. Should be in the service offering forum.

pr0t0typ3 - March 18, 2012, 10:28 am

I got the same question as Wolves. What does qualify you ? Being member in a bought usergroup does not really mean anything. Rep does not really mean anything either(although you don't have that much that even if you would think it would count it would not really qualify you). Post count doesn't either, so why should we trust you ? If people from staff like Factor8 are doing a middle man service, you can atleast be sure that the owner of this website you are currently on, does trust him enough to make him an admin. He will most likely not disappear tomorrow as he has quite reputation he worked for to loose.
