

Forum:Hack Forums

Thread: enabling the "PicShare" function in chatblazer

silentstare - March 19, 2012, 11:53 am

Hi, I have the chatblazer program that I use to chat online. In this program, there's a function called "picshare" that allows you to upload pictures in the chatroom. in the XML script, the function is already set to "true" but once I make the modification with the codes it still doesn't appear. Any help on that topic? I saw a youtube video that shows how someone enables it but he doesn't provide the codes that he uses to replace the ones already in the page source. Here's the link for it:

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=xkwrXGqGCFI&feature=related>

You can see at the beginning how he only has a few options in the chat window but once he's done, he has the option to upload pictures in the room. I'd like to know what he did because it seems like a simple copy and paste but it doesn't work (tried for a moment, trust me on this...). Thank you for the help and if this is in the wrong section, please re-direct me to the right one.

halfdead - January 25, 2015, 6:30 pm

If anyone could assist me, That would be great... ?