Thread: How to change file extension and still have the KL work?

I am a newb (duh) and have been messing around with this keylogger for a long time. I am using H3LL's keylogger and I want to email it and have it look like a *.jpg. Ideally, I want to bind it to an actual picture so that when it is ran, the picture opens up as well. I have tried the Sh!t binder but it made my av go crazy. I also tried to just change the extension to *.jpg, and it emails fine but when you open it nothing happens. Finally, I tried to change the icon and have the extension *.jpg.exe which works, but no email service will allow it to be attached. What am I missing or doing wrong? Thanks for your help in advance.

Im having the same problem! I want to attach my keylogger (.exe) to a .PSD file so when it is opened the PSD file opens and the keylogger.

Ideas?

Try some PDF exploit from Metaspolit or <http://www.milw0rm.com/>

There are ways to hide your files inside an image file so that when they open the image they inadvertently open your .exe. Search the forums to find a tutorial.
