Hey guys, made this chat box design for IM services. Took me about 45 minutes, nothing spectacular..

I added in all of the text for anti-ripping purposes, but I have a clean version without the icons, text, etc...

Tell me what you think?

It's seemingly generic which I am not a huge fan of, but it has a smooth and refined look and I like that. It's decent overall in my opinion.

The grey border around it bothers me a bit should just keep it to the blue box.

The buttons on the side that say 'random user1' dont really look that appealing. They could be bigger or something.

Other than that i guess it's a good little chat box for a small website or something.

6/10 can be improved.

Looks a bit boring. The grey text on the blue background puts me off a lot.

Needs less gay design and less colors. Make a black picture next time bro.

It looks very clean and good but i think the red x should be a little bigger. 8.5/10

Well done.

The picture is clean, but you could maybe work with the background, maybe details is needed. 8.5/10
