The first time is like Where's waldo for the focal point. It just looks like a bunch of lines to me, but the futuristic lighting effect is nice. The lighting is coming on quite strong, so I'd tone that down. It looks like everything is scattered and messed around though, so perhaps a cleaning up would be nice.

The second one is monotone, and could use more depth as well as a nicer lighting. However, the effects are quite nice, despite the fact that they are too, scattered around.

I'm going to go with the second one because it's more organized, but both artists did a good job.

RiPPiN - April 2, 2012, 6:03 pm

They are both very good graphics, but I have to go with the second one its a halo graphic and its pretty sick good job to both.

Sweet Jesus 0.0 they're both so good! You guys are amazing <3

Designer - June 23, 2012, 8:50 am

Number 1 for sure. Nice use of lightning and pen tooling ;)

Carmarthen - June 29, 2012, 5:54 am

Second graphic for me, i like the use of colours although i would agree with a comment above; more depth is needed.

Alricaus - June 30, 2012, 12:47 pm

I voted for number two, because I had some problem to figure what was the number one.

They are both great, but all I can say about the number one is to put a little less "light" in the center, but the concept is good.

akatzbreaker - July 2, 2012, 4:03 am

Both are awesome! I really liked them!

sasquatch' - July 3, 2012, 3:00 am

Personally I like the first one because the colors that flare out give it a slight glowing look.

Well done to the both of you for creating such wonderful creations.

The Coder - July 3, 2012, 7:56 pm

47YRS - July 4, 2012, 11:11 pm

Halo one should have one. SOOO sexy.

The Medic - July 4, 2012, 11:28 pm

The first one shows a bit more skill due to the lighting effects and it's overall more attractive
