Thread: [\[TuT\] How to add effects to only a certain part of text \[TuT\]](#)

Frost Byte - April 8, 2012, 3:33 pm

What you will need: Photoshop

Steps:

1. Rasterize your text. (The way I do it is take the brush and click. It will give you the option to rasterize.)
2. Then select the part you want to add an effect to, right click, and click layer via copy.
3. Now add the effect you want.

REMEMBER: You can do this for a image also. Just no need to rasterize. :P

If it is confusing PM me. I will be adding pictures later.

Try again there buddy.LQ? Most people do not know how to do this. So come back to me when you have been on this website for at least an hour :D. Thanks.

I would suggest adding picture for a more in-depth approach as this thread does come across as LQ, just because you added color does not mean its HQ.

Title is misleading, Seems to relate to vector masks... yet your telling people to rasterize text. What if i want to add effects to something thats not text, as thats what this tutorial was generalized towards.

Thanks.Dont make your stay here a bad one, as you've been here for under a week, and your lipping, take advice and improve.
