Thread: [\[18kb Output\] Cloaked Logger \[100% FUD\] - Foxy Software Product](#)

Cloud9™ - April 13, 2012, 3:11 pm

As promised, Foxy Software has developed its own logger by the name of Cloaked Logger. Traditional logging applications would not work on certain browsers or gaming clients, but that has all changed. Cloaked Logger will allow you to download and execute on all your slaves and it will sit there waiting. Once it has gotten what it needs, it quickly takes 5 screenshots and sends them directly to your e-mail!

Cloaked Logger is perfect for anyone wanting to gain virtual items. Everything is simple to use, all you need is an e-mail account and you're ready to begin. The best thing about Cloaked Logger is you no longer need to download executable programs, deal with the pesky HWID system, worrying about your product getting cracked, or having to wait for updates, since Cloaked Logger is an online generator.

Once you pay for Cloaked Logger you will get your login details in little over 24 hours, log into our online members area, and you're ready to begin generating your very own logger. If you're already a customer of Foxy Software, we will be offering discounts to all our current customers on all our products, including Cloaked Logger!

Prices:

We've chosen to offer Cloaked Logger at $15 for 3 months of updates and current FoxyJava customers get a 30% discount.

Note: Prices are still being thought over and we'd like you to actually give some input on how much you think it should cost.

Well, that is the plan and sales are to be opening today or tomorrow as we still have a lot of work to do on FoxyJava and Cloaked Logger. We'd like you to give us some features we can add to the logger to make it better. Thank you and I hope everyone is excited to see the launch of Cloaked Logger. Anyone like the name or does it sound cheesy?

Alright. Your a good website coder so i guess the logger is good to :)

AA:PG - April 13, 2012, 3:17 pm

Don't forget to say that it's fud :)

and it's taking 5 screenshots not 6

4 of the pin and 1 of the bank

Nice, Is this good for runescape? If It is, maybe ll be purchasing.

arigato - April 13, 2012, 3:48 pm

Is it coded in a .net dependent language?

ofc it is...

It's coded in c# and it's require framework 2.0

Cloud9™ - April 13, 2012, 5:09 pm

Really surprised there aren't people commenting a lot :/.

arigato - April 13, 2012, 5:50 pm

Considering BlackShades RAT already has this in their product and they are VB6, people probably aren't too interested in this.

On top of that, this is $15.00 compared to the free feature on BShades RAT, and even more so it's also got a .NET dependency, so execution rate will most likely be less and yeah, it's probably not going to get a lot interest for those reasons.

Just my $0.02

True, but I've gotten so many complaints about how the BS pinlogger is crap.

GamersGodly - April 13, 2012, 7:45 pm

How comes Torva Pin logger got banned because it took pictures of Rs Pins and was a logger specifically for Runescape...But this product don't?

So, the fuck is this going to do if the password is masked? And as far as I know, not a single valuable site, doesn't mask your password when you enter it.

AA:PG - April 13, 2012, 7:52 pm

I do not understand why people panic so much with the .net

My grand-mother wich is 78 years old got a laptop with a higher framework than 2.0 even the pc of my other grand-mother wich is 92 years old got a higher framework than 2.0

If my grand-mothers got a framework of 2.0 on their pc, i think those gamers also got it.

I thought Runescape was allowed back on these forums? And Blackshades made an update in their RAT for Runescape, so if it's not allowed, they couldn't sell their product.

Well then you might want to PM a staff member about that, or make a thread in the Rules Discussion forum.

I have already like 1 month ago. Then they told me that they will think about it. But no BV1 got special rules i guess because he donates much. If they remove his thread they lose money.

Then go do it again if nothing's been done. If you feel there's an issue with equality, speak your mind. Don't just sit there and not be heard. Maybe it was because yours was blackhat? I would make a thread asking just to be sure.
