What exactly proves to us that they are "Real". Will they watch our videos? Rate, comment, etc? Last time I checked you cant force people to do all that o.0

Exactly what proves to us that they are Real, there is no way in hell you can get 1000 real people subscribed to a channel unless you are using a service likes vagex, u2bviews, kenhanceviewsm also how do we know that they wont unsubscribe, after like a day or two of you doing the service.

The service I'm using allows people to subscribe to other accounts using real accounts, and you they get subscriber credits, I have 1500 subscriber credits. I'm not saying its going to be their main channel, but its not a bot.

You know they won't unsubscribe because there is a checking service in place. If someone unsubscribes, the service will know, and will refund me my credits. If if you start to notice people unsubscribing, PM me and I will add new subscriptions.
