You might like it, it is made using the .net framework so you could decompile it with the applications that I sent you !

Maybe you can find the hidden keylogger ? ;)

Spoiler (Click to View)

Just kidding, it does not have a keylogger.

(Apr 22, 2012 11:52 AM)babololo12 Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) What if you were infected by this. How would you fix it?

If you checked the add to startup option, first kill the teatimer.exe process if it is running and if it is running from the startup folder.

And then delete it from the startup folder.

if it is not running from the startup folder, just kill its process in the taskmanager.

Imagine your computer, beeping non stop. What would you do? I'd throw it out of my window.

Make a video showing how "Infinite Beeping" can be annoying and reactions to it ?

What options did you select ? There is always a cure.

Start your system in safe mode, and delete the startup key from the registry.

Spoiler (Click to View)

Code HKEY_CURRENT_USER\Software\Microsoft\Windows\Run

Or delete it from your startup folder if it copied itself there.

DeadLine's Virus Maker 1.8.5 is a virus maker that I made because I do not trust all the other virus makers that are out there on the net. I worked on this for 8+ hours in total.

This application lets you create virusses, and you do not need to be a computer "geek" to do this. All you need, is this tool.

Features:

Spoiler (Click to View) Show a messagebox on startup
Add to windows startup Close MSN
Close Skype Close Yahoo
Disable mouse Force shutdown
Force restart Infinite beeping
Infinite messageboxes Disconnect from the internet
Disable firewall Disable CMD
Disable taskmanager Disable regedit
Random mouse movement Random keyboard keys sent Disable notepad
* And more !
