Are you using an Antivir?

And why did you using XXX?

And why did you using not?

Which is the best for you?

I don't use an AV. I honestly think they're pointless if you know what you're doing. It's not like it's going to stop you from getting ratted and shit anyway.

I use it Avast now, and I am well protected. I am using the free version which is a lifetime deal for free, which is unique from the other anti-viruses, and contains many good functions. It's also light sourced, so you won't have a hard time running it on your computer.

I use Comodo Antivirus which is very good in safeguarding my pc from all kinds of internal and external attacks. I use free version and its very light and more good for my pc.

I use Antivir. I had avast but it was very easy to bypass it with metasploit, so i changed it.

I used to use Avast, I used this because I felt they were quite a good product for being free. But to be honest, I dont see a point in antivir... just watch what you do, my opinion <--- not certified :D

I'm not using an antivirus since I don't download random binded things and obvious viruses.
