Thread: Best Protection Setup?

Yuuko - April 24, 2012, 6:57 pm

I just recently formatted my computer and now am lazy to search for good anti-viruses so go ahead and tell me your setup.

Go for Comodo Antivirus which is very good in safeguarding your pc from al kinds of attacks.

Stewie™ - April 25, 2012, 3:02 am

Personally I use Avira Free AV & Malwarebytes for virus scanning, and ZoneAlarm Firewall.

Firewall:

Comodo's Firewall

AntiVirus

ESET Smart Security

Backup Scanners

1. SuperAntiSpyware

2. Malwaresbytes

Most Important

Use your brain.

That's a setup whitch i recommend.

I use Avira Internet Security for antivirus and firewall and I also use malwarebytes and sandboxie and obvcourse a virtual machine.

Luikkari - April 25, 2012, 1:10 pm

I'm using Avast free version, Malwarebytes paid version (Got serial key from internet. Very easy.)

CR0.S2S - April 25, 2012, 2:00 pm

You dont even need AV if you dont download shit like me :)

PawKy - April 25, 2012, 3:48 pm

I Recommends avast free and anti-malware

There's no best setup.

There are some things you should keep in mind and you're redy to go.

- *Don't download and run files from unknown sources.

- *Use a basic free antivirus like avg at the least.

- *Free firewalls will add to your security.

- *Don't trust anyone on the internet.
