Thread: [\[FREE\]Noseeum Key logger \[0/9\]](#)

Jacob° - May 3, 2012, 8:00 am

Welcome to the thread for Noseeum Key logger!

I have coded this keylogger in Autoit3, therefore it as NO DEPENDENCIES! This is an official product for my website, and there will be several more FREE hacking tools coming out soon as well! Version 2 will have Gmail SMTP log sending support!

Come visit my website and experience genuine information a long with future programs galore!

You can read more about this here: Delusional Learning You learn something new each day.

You can watch this video for further detail.

You would be surprised how hard writing to an executable is in autoit3. I actually have a version that is ready for private release and sales as soon as i figure out the writing to EOF portion.

I apologize for this inconvenience.

Yes they do, I remember your username. Would you like an easier username and password?

16 letter long username and 18 letter password isn't really the best for memory.

edit: also the username and passwords ARE CASE SENSITIVE.

I recived this email

Thank you for being interested in my product and your account is now activated. You should be able to access it at anytime from now on. The only time your account should be inactive is if my server is offline, which is almost never.

But if i try to enter, says incorrect data

I always hand test my product registration before sending that email.

You are the only person out of the dozen or so I registered yesterday that is having this problem.
