Thread: rxooxt: Hacking Mentor. \(This is NOT a request for a Hacking Mentor\).

Sc0tty - January 25, 2010, 1:47 pm

Hello.

My name is rxooxt, and I am looking for someone to mentor in hacking.

This thread is mainly aimed at Beginners, but some of what I can teach might be useful for Intermediate and possibly Advanced hackers too.

I have been a mentor to a large number of people over the years, and I believe that anyone who is struggling should get the help they need, and fast.

The topics I can teach are specifically aimed at users who ask questions similar to the one below:

How do I become a hacker.

I can teach White Hat material or Black Hat material, being a Grey Hat myself. If you are not familiar with these terms, a simple search will give you suitable results.

Anyone who needs my help as a mentor will have 100% of my time, and I will do whatever it takes to get them started on their way to becoming a hacker.

Unfortunately, as I am already mentoring people, I can only take on 2 to 3 mentees from this thread at a maximum, so I will have to give the help to those who ask first, but if you have a simple question or need help with a specific subject, as long as it doesn't take longer than 1 hour or so, all of you are welcome to use my contact details, listed below, to ask for assistance no matter what it is you need help with.

Here are my contact details:

rxooxt@gmail.com

If you want to ask just a simple question, please e-mail me immediately, but if you want me to take you on as a mentee, please e-mail me with the subject being rxooxt: Hacking Mentor, and also post a post in this thread so I know who I am mentoring.

I hope this thread will achieve the recognition it deserves, and I hope this thread will be of use to at least 1 person on HackForums.

Thank you for reading.

I hope to hear from you soon,
rxooxt

Hello rxooxt,

I am thoroughly interested in this thread and may require your skills in the hacking area, although I am an experienced hacker and I mostly use Windows operating system builds, I would like to take the opportunity to learn something new.

At present, I am eager to learn programming in various languages and I am willing to learn more languages that you are able to instruct.

Feel free to PM me via the HackForums.

P.S. As you are doing me a great service, I am willing to exchange my expertise also, especially my new-found experience in Linux based builds.

Yours,
Flameabysuss

I am intressested to have you as a mentor , i been looking around here for some month now, and i been looking on google tricks , etc for years , well i cannot consider myself as experimented hacker , but i can say i learn fast , and i ask only when i can't found a way by myself, sometimes , it seems ridiculus but it's the true:)

Regards
Ben

Been mailed btw.

Heh, I've been waiting for something like this to pop up. What's up rxooxt? I'm _3rr0r and I've been looking for a mentor for months :P Threads like this are a great contribution to the hackforums, I hope you find the time to PM me.. I would like to know how much knowledge you have in programming languages, if any at all? Also, do you know your way around a smalltime botnet?

Anyways, thanks for your time, and this thread.

Hi rxooxt,
I'm new in this site and kinda new in hacking,I still need someone who can give me guidance on hacking and ways to prevent security exploit.Before I actually have the idea on how to access HF,I was lurking and struggling in finding good ezines and underground sites in the net. Compliling tut on hacking sure helps me a lot, back then I remember that, I will need someone to explain me some stuffs in detail.

Regards,
Mrs_
