Thread: FUD | Noseeum Keylogger Teaser - Future HF Keylogger!

Jacob° - May 10, 2012, 8:42 am

I'm in the process of making a keylogger for HF. This will be a cheaply paid keylogger. Below is a video showing a quick demonstration of the future Noseeum Remote Keylogger.

Please post your feedback, what you like, dislike. What you would like to see and would like to see gone etc etc.

This project should be fully finished tonight and after a couple days of beta testing it will be out on the market.

I'm thinking $8-$10 lifetime :)

Looks very decent! And 8 to 10$ for a keylogger that is FUD is a very cheap price :P

Will you do updates to Re-FUD it?

Thank you! I most likely will reFUD it, but not every second it becomes undetected. That is what crypters are for ^_^

But yes, I most likely will reFUD it. Price will go up as I add more features to it as well :)

pm a soon as sells commence.

questions:

how will the keystrokes be recorded (what format)? will we know where the keystrokes are being entered?

will it capture all special characters as well !@#$%&, etc and even alt characters?

how many kb is the .exe?

the format will be like this

Code [window title]

text here

So yes you will know where the text is entered. Yes captures all special characters without [shift]1[shift], like a lot of loggers do.

Not sure how many kb the exe is. I built a server 2 days ago and it was roughly 55kb. However, I can't use my computer right now so progress has been halted.

I'd be interested in purchasing this. PM me when it's ready for release, or if you're still looking for beta testers.

Jacob° - May 23, 2012, 5:38 pm

Thanks everyone, hopefully soon i'll be able to use my computer and itll be done.

blackopec12 - May 23, 2012, 10:57 pm

55kb sounds great

Imsoawesome94 - May 24, 2012, 3:46 am

Timers and the code for all the anti's proper FUD run time execution

process protection is still buggy

Then the project will be ready for testing.
