Why this shit is called 'the legend' ?

+maybe because it was the first crypter with usg, i've invented it.

+maybe because kaspersky wanted to buy the source of it

+maybe because it has many unique options.

+maybe because it was fud up to one month.

"Yeah, right. Give me a break with your kid tools"

@Kaspersky Now you can analyze this source, you don't need to pay for it)

BUNNN released this on another site and I am re-posting as I find this pretty interesting for him to release for free. All credits go to BUNNN.

Holy crap... that is a lot of features T_T

(° ? °) - May 11, 2012, 8:55 pm

Very nice share, thanks for this (and thank BUNNN too). :)

(?°?°)?(???? - May 11, 2012, 8:56 pm

Thanks for the share man. I won't use it but thanks.

Burn™ - May 11, 2012, 8:57 pm

Thanks man <3

Looks sweet ;D

Awesome!

Kenny252 - May 11, 2012, 9:24 pm

Wait, isn't this an obfuscator not a crypter?

Nah' it's a really old crypter that used to be as popular as Galaxy Crypter.

Nice share bro. I might check it out a bit later.

BUNNN - May 12, 2012, 3:32 am

@Ruzzle 3k euro.

But i refused it because of my active customers and many other things ..

Well Kudos to you for not giving in to them :D even tho the price was nice :D

Antidote - May 12, 2012, 4:13 am

Thanks for the release, this crypter looks pretty impressive. Did Kaspersky really offer money for the source code?

DeathStar13 - May 12, 2012, 4:58 am

Nice site man, very good download.. thx moordact - May 12, 2012, 6:28 am sweet , is it possible to make it fud again?

or is it a lost case?

you can try to edit source, but what i read on other site, it is more than 70% scrambled...

Snoepie1012 - May 12, 2012, 8:14 am

Crypter looks awesome :)! Only how would I open this project in vb? The only files I can click on are "Compiled resource scrip".

Would you have sold it now since you have father crypter? Another question, would kaspersky still buy it now if you haven't released it open source.

Darkestkiller - September 13, 2012, 11:30 pm

Good share will be downloading!

Thanks!

lordpros - February 22, 2015, 3:54 pm

anyone has download link if yes please can you share it?

It is 2 years old. Please don't gravedig like that,no point. Try to search for a new and better crypter.
