*If you find any bugs/errors I would be happy if you could notice me about it.

*The Icon & Assembly changer won't work in the free version.

*There way a bug in the config adding a random space to the serial, just download the updated client and it should work now!

The MammoTh - May 16, 2012, 9:21 am

Looks very interesting, nice GUI and great coder.

PeWz - May 16, 2012, 9:22 am

Thank you Cubee,

I'd really appreciate what you're doing for the community.

I've always known you were a great member and you improved it.

I respect you and I wish you the best, this crypter looks amazing!

It's one of the nicest and amazing Crypters!

Regards,

It saves the file in the same folder your client is in, also it does that on purpose because you are not crypting with a private stub.

n00b.ca - May 16, 2012, 12:37 pm

The GUI looks pretty good. I will definitely check it out.

I guess you type in the wrong userid then, your userid are the last digits of your profile link, i bet you are trying to type in your hf username, while the user is requested.

Example : If your profile link is this :

<https://hackforums.net/member.php?action=profile&uid=1>

your userid is : 1

(May 16, 2012 12:52 PM)luckeyman123 Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I crypted my keylogger and it was detected by 7/14

Yup, you should read the post mate, it's a non fud version to test bugs and compatibility and make yourself familiar with the crypter, you can buy the private version which will be fud later on, nothing will change on there just that the output will be fud and everything goes glitch free since all the functions will work flawless

Check in the folder where the crypter is, Sometimes it's end up there with a random name.

As i said, the crypter is not fud since it is the FREE public version to fix bugs for the PAID private version (May 20, 2012 10:04 PM)1ManArmy Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Is it a Backdoor? i have just downloaded it.

No it is not backdoored nor infected in any way.

(May 20, 2012 09:17 PM)4lecrypter Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) AVG became an OP Anti-Virus that is a bitch to bypass. It use to be shit but they really stepped up they're game >_>
Mate, this version is the free unfud version, that is why avg detects it, the private version will be fud but the release should be bug free and that is why this version is released, to fix all that bugs.

A) I mention that the public free version is NOT FUD, read the thread before you download something please

B) The crypter is not coded in vb.net, and i think that you do not know what you are talking about, i kindly ask you to leave the thread now.

Yes, its your crypted file but i mention in the thread that this version is not fud, so your output obviously is detected since its not fud.

Son, you must have analyzed something wrong, the crypter doesnt creates such files, but since that is your temp folder, it might be that other programs (Like ie epxplorer) created those files while you anylzed it, also how do you expect to be infected from dmp and log files? Those arent even executables so even if they where viruses they couldn't damage your system

(May 20, 2012 09:29 AM)lewis188 Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Very nice

Yes, it checks if you have a valid license every minute and it counts the times you checked it up and up, so that is what it supposed to do.

mrDH - May 21, 2012, 11:36 am

But yet you download my crypter because you cant even code right?

How about you stop talking and saying that .net is for noobs when you cant even code for yourself?

In fact you can almost do everything in/with .net you can do in other programming languages while .net is just EASIER.

By the way, the private version is not even out, and it doesnt even checks for a username and password but thats what i expected from someone who cant even code ???
