Thread: SURF! - The Age of Darkness. Text Based Fighting Game

SUFR! - The Age of Darkness is a text based fighting game. You fight other players to win, simple right? You can earn coins and citizens, upgrade and train, view stats, chat on the forums, and even add an avatar(profile image). The game is being updated a lot this and next week. We just added the avatar feature this week. We are looking for dedicated members that would like to be active and would be willing to help get us members.

Our referral system is amazing as well. Get your friends to click your referral link and you get 20 citizens! This gives you a huge advantage. You get to train and get an army before anyone else. You can buy weapons and armor from the armory to increase your offense and defense. This helps when attacking other players. The more of either of those, the higher your chances of winning are. All of the players stats on on the stats page. You can see were you rank and how much it takes for you to get to the top! This adds more of a goal to the game and something to work for.

All Images, Text, and Code are owned by Scen3 Studios. It may not be re-distrubuted with out prior consent. Anyone seen doing such will be punished.

Not really loving the colors, but I joined. I'll give a review on the actual game as soon as I play it.

The games ok.. lol, you just find people to attack and keep killing them.
But you also level up, get stats and stuff. Just like most of these games.

BTW as the admin I don't think you should play this game.

It's really a turn off for a game when the admin is just generating items or points. I can tell you this right now, the game will be unfair. Completely. You can easily invite your friends and send them points. It's just ridiculous, no one will want to play like that. I saw your army, and theirs no way you gained 515....Now I just don't want to play the game at all, knowing you can just cheat it like that.

BTW is there anyway to gain army men other than referring?

Yes, you get them every so often, and I dont play the game lol. Those are from testing and will be cleared. And it is very fair, u have to be level 7 to send points.
