This is not a healthy way to talk with someone. What you actually need is, to improve.

And we would highly appreciate it if you won't.

James Bond™ - May 26, 2012, 6:39 am botlords, I been using this for a while now and have gotten 10k+ credits. I used them for banner ads and already have 12k impressions but 2 clicks? Whats up with that. You guys advertise get thousands of traffic, how do i do that if nobody clicks the banner...

Skeptic Judge - May 27, 2012, 2:54 am

I don't really recommend this. I've used this before however, after a day, pop-ups came up asking me to "Buy" it. This is essentially not Free but a Trial one.

botlords - May 27, 2012, 6:24 am

Dear friend, we can only help you in providing traffic to your web blog. However, in most of the cases, we have got the feedback that people get around 5% of the clicks so far. Maybe you should use it a little longer

And my old friend liisyaoron, good to see you here. Well, we have offered you all a trial version of our bot. If you want to use longer, then you would have to purchase the license. And, if the pop-up is coming before a week's time, then you might be mistyping the license key. This is done in order to prevent spammers.

I've been able to use it 1 day without any problems then on the next day that has been popping alot, I haven't even reached 1 week -_- and its asking me to pay up for a license. That just turned me off. And I know that the license is not mistyped since it is "Saved" there once you've put it in and have logged-in successfully for the first time.

Okay, then do send me the screenshot of it.

Because we have been taking feedback from each of our member, no-one reported such a problem, but because you are saying this, and i respect my members, do send me a screenshot of it.

And yes, you must log out every time you turn off our bot.

James Bond™ - May 27, 2012, 8:05 am

The trail is 7 days right? If so something is wrong with your code. My trail lasts 2 days and then it says I have to buy it..

I've uninstalled it way back some days ago. Hm, seems you don't remember most of the people as well that reported that problem in your thread on that forum -_- Oh, well. You should move this to the Marketplace section and put in the Title that you are giving away a 7Day trial because as I've said this is not totally Free.

HaHaHaHa...I knew this thing, that there is no as such problem as said by you.

Anyways, we had never mentioned anywhere that it's going to be free forever. And what i actually feel is, if we are offering you such a services, then there is no harm in demanding just a few bucks. Anyways, it was nice talking with you..!

James Bond™ - May 27, 2012, 7:29 pm

@botlords please explain to me how you can get thousands of traffic if you can only get 250 credits a day?

What are you saying my friend?

We have over around 10,000 subscribers, and not even a single person has reported that it stopped working before a week.

Still, because you are reporting us this, do send me a screenshot of it, or pm me for team-viewer, will see to it.

And my friend, till it is running in the background with that transparent window, it is working, either you don't know how to close it, or you are just minimizing our bot and supposing it to be closed.pm me a screenshot.
