Who are the HFarmers?
We are a group of dedicated farm guys and gals whose sole purpose in life is to produce, raise, protect, nurture, kill, and ultimately live off of our livestock, also known as members.

What are the advantages of being in the HFarmers?
You will be saved when Judgement Day comes, also known as The Slaughter.

What are the requirements to get into the HFarmers? You must want to join.
You must be an animal.
How do I apply?

Please fill out the application, shown below, and post it, filled out fully, as a response in this thread.

Note that if your application is interesting to read, your chances of being accepted are much higher.

Code Name:
Year of Birth:
Country:
Language:
Reason(s) why you'd like to join the HFarm:
What type of animal are you?:
Note that only the Farmers can accept or deny applications.

Reason(s) why you'd like to join the HFarm: because the cattle have no idea when entering the slaughterhouse that they will never return.

So they are going while the other's watch in the distance listening to the slaughtering of there own.

So fear and stress sets in as the other groups approached the slaughter house led by the farmer.

See the farmer knew that the cattle had something valuable, something he wanted so he attacked and I dont want to be a target of that attack.... :(

Welcome to all new animals.

Oh no! A tornado has wiped out nearly half of the farm! All of the ducks, geese, turkeys, and field mice have died. We will no longer be allowing these animals onto our farm in the future as we see them as disastrous.

Due to character count limits (18,000), we must remember our past farm here, in this post rather than the OP to make room for our new farm. Live in the present, not the past.

If you really want to know why I want to join HFarm, you need to know my life story.

So I got crowned after I murdered my Father Sir Pussington IV.

My brother Sir Pussington V soon found out who killed the one who raised us.

He challenged me for a fight over life and death (or whos allowed to sleep on the good pillow for a month).

After a long fight with my brother, I managed to defeat him while he was distracted from the birds flying by the window.

I exiled him from the good pillow for a month and claimed the Fridge as my Territory.

Now I have everything a cat could ask for. Lots of Salmon, a good Pillow and full power over a kingdom.

But im still not statisfied. Now that my family is gone I feel kind of empty... I feel lonely....

I heard that this Place has some nice farmers, a lot of animals and rocks. I would really be thankful if you would let me into your nice community and I promise not to murder or take his/her favorite pillow from anyone.

What type of animal are you?: a cat

What kind of question is that? Just because most farmers run undercover conspiracy operations to abduct animals into their coverup systems of secret slaughterhouses so they can sell the fresh meat to other evil farmers at the secret Farmer's Market, it doesn't mean Yellows does as well!
