There are so many Graphics forums, this isn't one I would bother joining.

It's not 100% wholly gfx ^^

But we have gotten nearly 4.1k members in under 3 months :)

And are growing even faster now as well as implementing a LOT of new things to the forum.
We have a lot of trading done on the marketplace and around 300 posts a day :)

For a graphics forum, the logo and layout suck, no offense. I wouldn't say that if it were another forum, but if it's a graphics forum it should at least look good for god's sake.

We actually swapped to HawkHost and lost our previous theme...

We're making a new custom theme though :)

Its just a template for the time being, but members seem to like it so we might just change the colours and add a logo :)

Alright, well change that logo because, no offense, but it looks like crap.
