Thread: Where to Upload and Scan Crypted Files and Where NOT too. | Direct Links |

????A?? - June 12, 2012, 8:03 am

Okay first of all, you should be uploading your infected files to sites such as:

<http://scan.psomasweb.org/>
<http://sharesend.com/>
www.directlink.tv
www.filehold.net
www.dlandexe.com
www.wss-coding.com/upload
<http://www.botz.in>
<http://kiwi6.com/>
<http://zippyshare.com/>
<http://drop.st/>
<http://filetolink.com/>
<http://ge.tt/>
<http://freewayhost.net/>
<http://largedocument.com/>
<http://rghost.net/>
<http://dox.abv.bg/files/share>

Make sure you do NOT upload to dropbox, mediafire, or any sites that distribute samples to anti-virus companies.

(This will make it become UD from FUD very fast)

Another thing I would like to note is that up2x.com have recently added a bit coin miner to be executed along with what you upload! so NEVER use this uploader again!

ONLY Scan your infected files on these sites!

<http://elementscanner.net/>
<http://my-avscan.net/>
<http://bshades.eu/scanner.php>
<http://scan.psomasweb.org/>

All of these sites provide two scans a day, I think you may need to own a BS product for Blackshades scanner, or maybe just an account.

Make sure you don't scan your infected files on sites such as:

virustotal

jotti

nothanksvirus

(have heard rumours of them distributing even if you check the box)

Just a tip if you don't have any free scans available on my-avscan or element scanner you could test your server on a PC with AV installed.

Goodluck spreading :)

Thanks to Kohsti for the rest of the sites to upload to!

Also, please leave a post so the people that are unaware of where to upload will more likely see this!

I thought I would add that <https://imgur.com/> is a great upload site for images

Thanks for this, saved these in a notepad!

Good tutorial, this will help a lot of crypters stay FUD longer.

I also found a good site called ge.tt and from what I have seen they do not scan.

After the virus is uploaded, do this to get the direct link.

If you like this site you can use the image site in your post if you want.

No virus thanks is fine to use if you do not distribute the scan. Your wording for some of this is fucked up.

As well as dropbox. Everything you heard were rumors.

I have heard rumours of them distributing anyway, so I'd rather not take the chance, and what wording is fucked up?

And Dropbox does distribute samples.

GoodFellas is right, Dropbox does distribute, viruses get picked up very quickly by Bullguard and Dr. Web within a few days after uploading to Dropbox.

????A?? - June 12, 2012, 5:17 pm

Yeah, I hope this keeps people FUD longer.

Stev - June 12, 2012, 5:23 pm

Good tutorial, will keep the newbies from uploading to the wrong websites...

Don't use dropbox, it distributes files to AV companies, for further research.
You can test it out yourself:

- Upload a file to dropbox.com, remember its MD5 Hash
- After 1-2 weeks, you will find the MD5 hash in www.virustotal.com's database

Always use the following direct link uploading websites:

www.directlink.tv
www.litetb.com
www.filehold.net
www.dlandexe.com
www.wss-coding.com/upload
www.exehost.com

Oh god, remove metascan-online from the list of non distributing sample scanners. They do redistribute them.

Also there is absolutely no proof that Dropbox scans or distributes the files, thats just a rumor.

If you think that way, then every single page you upload to might distribute samples.

So why take the chance?

I mean, why take the chance on rumored websites. If their is a rumor, and you have heard it more than once, doesnt mean its true, but why upload your virus there? Just go with sites that have never even been rumored (As far as I know) to distribute samples.

Also, metascan.org is by the makers of my-avscan. They don't redistribute either, you should add them.

Dear god Bv1, Teach me your ways :) Or let me in on that with you :) I will pay :P

I wouldnt know where to get a proper source..and with my luck when it was re fud it would probably not be done in a unique way, any more information would be nice, because it seems the crypters on HF are most definitely NOT fud long enough.

@?oodFellas Thanks this guide has been veryhelpful. and plus virustotal does not allow u to not distribute ur scan. it does it automaticly. as for nothanksvirus.org u could be right. even when checking the box to not send the scan. it might do it anyway. overall like u said i think a goodway to test is on ur AV scanner that is installed on your PC. witch is what i do mostly.

Dropbox does not, will not and can not distribute files.

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=1961817>

Uploading a crypted file which then becomes detected isn't because the file was distributed. It's because you're using a crypter which gives similar outputs. I'm not talking about percentage of code difference I'm talking about actual difference in code.

that's true in a way but if you don't want your own private crypter getting picked up fast don't upload/scan on these places.

Weird, I know a lot of people who use dropbox and they're an owner of a private crypter. Their crypts usually last 3 - 6 months depending on spreading.

Where are you even getting your evidence to say that Dropbox distributes files? Are you just another individual that uploaded a file to VirusTotal and blamed it on Dropbox ??

AmazedMoron - December 27, 2012, 9:54 pm

(Jun 12, 2012 08:03 AM)?achine Gun Kelly™ Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Okay first of all, you should be uploading your infected files to sites such as:

<http://sharesend.com/>
www.directlink.tv
www.filehold.net

www.dlandexe.com
www.wss-coding.com/upload
<http://www.botz.in>
<http://kiwi6.com/>
<http://zippyshare.com/>
<http://drop.st/>

<http://ge.tt/>
<http://freewayhost.net/>
<http://largedocument.com/>
<http://rghost.net/>
<http://dox.abv.bg/files/share>

Make sure you do NOT upload to dropbox, mediafire, or any sites that distribute samples to anti-virus companies.

(This will make it become UD from FUD very fast)

Another thing I would like to note is that up2x.com have recently added a bit coin miner to be executed along with what you upload! so NEVER use this uploader again!

ONLY Scan your infected files on these sites!

<http://elementscanner.net/>
<http://my-avscan.net/>
<http://bshades.eu/scanner.php>

All of these sites provide two scans a day, I think you may need to own a BS product for Blackshades scanner, or maybe just an account.

Make sure you don't scan your infected files on sites such as:

nothanksvirus

(have heard rumours of them distributing even if you check the box)

Just a tip if you don't have any free scans available on my-avscan or element scanner you could test your server on a PC with AV installed.

Goodluck spreading :)

Thanks to Kohsti for the rest of the sites to upload to!

Also, please leave a post so the people that are unaware of where to upload will more likely see this!

Thanks for this information. I never knew about that site adding a bitcoin miner to your upload. Lol.

Quick Question for understanding.
e.g. i create a .exe file and work with msfencode -e x86/shikata_ga_nai -c 20, upload it to a site that distribute e.g. jotti result 0/20 so FUD.

How long would it take for this .exe file beeing not FUD anymore AND what if i just create another .exe file with same msfencode parameters, will that be not FUD neither because the AV-companys will check the algorithm of "/shikata_ga_nai -c 20" everytime ?

I haven't test all those online scanners. Well, say every online scanners claimed to not distributing the file, but who knows the truth about it? If you uploaded the file to trusted online scanners, then maybe someday anyone would upload the same file to scanners that will distribute to AV companies, then when the file became detected, you cannot simply say the scanner A distributed the file. Maybe if someone said that the online scanner built by hackers or HF member or any other hacking forum members, then I believe it.

<http://scan.psomasweb.org/>
<http://sharesend.com/>

www.directlink.tv
www.filehold.net
www.dlandexe.com
www.wss-coding.com/upload
<http://www.botz.in>
<http://kiwi6.com/>
<http://zippyshare.com/>
<http://drop.st/>
<http://filetolink.com/>
<http://ge.tt/>
<http://freewayhost.net/>
<http://largedocument.com/>
<http://rghost.net/>
<http://dox.abv.bg/files/share>

Make sure you do NOT upload to dropbox, mediafire, or any sites that distribute samples to anti-virus companies.

(This will make it become UD from FUD very fast)

Another thing I would like to note is that up2x.com have recently added a bit coin miner to be executed along with what you upload! so NEVER use this uploader again!

ONLY Scan your infected files on these sites!

<http://elementscanner.net/>
<http://my-avscan.net/>
<http://bshades.eu/scanner.php>
<http://scan.psomasweb.org/>

All of these sites provide two scans a day, I think you may need to own a BS product for Blackshades scanner, or maybe just an account.

Make sure you don't scan your infected files on sites such as:

nothanksvirus

(have heard rumours of them distributing even if you check the box)

Just a tip if you don't have any free scans available on my-avscan or element scanner you could test your server on a PC with AV installed.

Goodluck spreading :)

Thanks to Kohsti for the rest of the sites to upload to!

Also, please leave a post so the people that are unaware of where to upload will more likely see this!

I thought I would add that <https://imgur.com/> is a great upload site for images

Don't use dropbox, it distributes files to AV companies, for further research.

You can test it out yourself:

-Upload a file to dropbox.com, remember its MD5 Hash

-After 1-2 weeks, you will find the MD5 hash in www.virustotal.com's database

Always use the following direct link uploading websites:

www.directlink.tv

www.litetb.com

www.filehold.net

www.dlandexe.com

www.wss-coding.com/upload

www.exehost.com

<http://www.botz.in>

<http://kiwi6.com/>

<http://zippyshare.com/>

<http://drop.st/>

<http://filetolink.com/>

<http://ge.tt/>

<http://freewayhost.net/>

<http://largedocument.com/>

<http://rghost.net/>

Thx for the links bro that is what i m looking for ?
