Hello there guys today im going to be showing you how to make a fake virus that just swaps the mouse controls around, to fool the victim. ;D Kinda fun actually.

[SETUP]

First open Dev-C++

Go to file > New > Source file.

Then type in this code.

Code #include <windows.h>

#include <stdio.h>

#include "winuser.h"

int main(){

 SwapMouseButton(true);

 return 0;

}[EXTRA INFORMATION]

IF YOU WANT TO USE THIS FOR PART OF A CRYPTER OR SOMETHING YOU CAN!

JUST MAKE SURE TO GIVE ME CREDIT.

I know.

But is that in a nice way, or a bad way you saying that?

lol,

lol,

Its a helpful way so other members can see what kind of tutorial.

Ontopic: Its a short tutorial can't you add some more stuff to it? :D

Nice tutorial mate.

Keep it up. ?

Ashy420x - June 14, 2012, 4:11 am

should do it without using windows libraries

[H]ell - June 14, 2012, 4:29 am

You want credit for a windows function?

You're joking right?
