I am trying to create a new thread in the Monetizing Techniques forum section, but I keep getting this error:

"You do not have permission to access this page. This could be because of one of the following reasons:

Is there a requirement to create a new thread?

You need to upgrade to L33T my friend. 18.99 I think it is.

Is this the only section, besides the VIP section where I have to become an upgraded member to create a thread? Thanks guys!

You can only post in the Monetizing Techniques forum. You can't post threads.
That applies to some other sub-forums.
Upgrade to L33t and all that will go away. ?

Upgrading to l33t is worth the money. (Going to upgrade myself really soon.)

No, Hacking Tools and Programs also requires you to be l33t to make new threads.

You need to upgrade to post in these sections.

This is temporary, soon the restrictions will be based of your prestige.

Read about upgrading from Normal member to L33t here.
