Thread: [\[HF Userscript \] Userscript List \[V 1.0.4 \]](#)

_DeNy - June 22, 2012, 5:44 pm

This script gathers a massive collection of userscripts and displays them in a very easy to read way on its own page.

How to install:I recommend Firefox with the Greasemonkey extension or Google Chrome with the (REQUIRED) Tampermonkey extension (REQUIRED).

Firefox: <http://userscripts.org/about/installing>

Opera: <http://www.howtogeek.com/howto/3986/set-up-user-scripts-in-opera-browser/>

Internet Explorer:

Google Chrome / Chromium: Install TamperMonkey from the Chrome Web Store. Then follow the instructions for installing under FireFox.

Guess I gotta make the display bigger. :D

Maybe 130px is too small... I'll try 250.

Well done.

Something is missing in signature though.

I'm not sure what you mean by something is missing. Can you explain further?

Nice creation, although the regexps are a little inefficient. I would probably handle the list through JSON + Handlebars.js.

Just did it the easiest and fastest way I know of. Still learning about what JSON can do, and I've never heard of Handlebars, so... Care to teach me oh wise one? :)

JSON is just a subset of JavaScript, meaning that valid JSON is also valid JavaScript, but not always the other way around. By the way, Handlebars = Handlebars.js, a Mustache-based templating engine. I suggest taking a look at the very informative homepage, and asking me any questions you may have by PM.
