This looks nice. I set it up and tested my email(worked) than set it up on my RAT victims but received no logs. I need a better logger because my RAT logger does not log everything correctly. A lot of skipped keys.

It dosent show as an open application. It is running, so it has to show as a process. If you change the name to explorerr.exe, then they obviously wont end it.

But I am using the right info because I logged onto www.gmail.com with the same info and it let me log in. Thanks.

It's just that. The file name. What you want the server that you spread to be called. It can be anything.

It's not a lie. It kills the processes.

It's an online database, so there is no process to be killed.

When ran on a computer, it won't be detected.

I warn you to be careful who you all a liar.

Can i spread my server.exe with USB? like i put the server.exe in USB then plug in USB in another comp then run it right away without copy and paste it to the computer? does that work? (A)

And if some1 kills the process and the server.exe got the starup feature clicked, does it mean that the server.exe will startup? or not?

Basically if it is FUD, you ran it on yourself and you have no ideas on how to, yes. It can be also used to remove different malware variants.

What Drake™ said. If it is FUD, it won't find it. HijackThis logs are for analysts to check. You don't do it by yourself as you may destroy your computer.

Follow this.

Download HijackThis from Trend Micro.

Run the installer. By default, it will install to C:\Program Files\Trend Micro\HijackThis

Once it is done installing, run HijackThis.

Select Do a system scan and save logfile.

Once HijackThis is done scanning, a notepad will pop up with the HJT log.

Copy and paste the contents of the log into your own seperate thread at the HijackThis Log Analyzer and Tutorials forum.

Your helper will tell you what to do, it is not a scanner.

Select Do a system scan and save logfile.

Once HijackThis is done scanning, a notepad will pop up with the HJT log.

Copy and paste the contents of the log into your own seperate thread at the HijackThis Log Analyzer and Tutorials forum.

Your helper will tell you what to do, it is not a scanner.

If they decompile the server, they can't find your gmail login info.

I have already made V2. I am working on version 4.7 now.

deepti85 - February 20, 2010, 12:44 am really nice app.

In case I have say a one time physical access to the victims pc, what would be the best way to insert this? should i keep the exe file in my own mail and open my mail at that pc and run the file? I could prob disable the AV for that time. If after I leave the victims turns his av on will it detect the key logger and remove it? or maybe detect and be unable to remove or not detect at all?

I ask cause i cant be sure if i can make it FUD being fairly new at this.

Thanks and keep it up. waiting for ver 2 (or 4 lol)
