Post a picture of the actually skype chat, that can be easily edited.

Other than that, looks like a legit scam report, good luck mate.

Miki is a low-life scammer. He also contacted me today about an eWhoring partnership(I needed a verified paypal and I was ready to give him a percentage of my earnings) and tried to infect me with a trojan. After i told him what my anti-virus found, he said that his computer is also infected(lucky for him I told him). If he would have waited until I made some money, he could have scammed me, but he decided he couldn't wait and he tried to infect me almost as soon as we exchanged MSN id's. He also said he has lots of private packs, and even tried to sell a pack(after he tried to infect me lol). His private pack was from HF, basically every member that reads the eWhoring section has them.

Do not deal with this user, EVER.
