It definitely looks like It will do the job. But personally, I prefer the Gmail option. But that's just me.

Anyway, I might give this a go.

Thanks for the share :)

very ncie, i like it...

hari12345 - February 10, 2010, 3:38 am

i checked this and it works perfect.....but i cant find its process on task manager

pls any otherway to remove it....and whenever i turned on my system it directly opens the temp folder.?

jojogizmojake - February 10, 2010, 4:09 pm

O thx for the bug report ill look into that.

Echo1337 - February 12, 2010, 7:43 am

Hmm. i can't see, to get the gmail settings working,

when i click test email i get an error saying "There was an error check account details :S"

jojogizmojake - February 12, 2010, 9:39 am just type in your username and password and in the To box put your email in or what ever email you want the tst message to go to.

Echo1337 - February 12, 2010, 10:21 am

thanks i'm an idiot :)

jojogizmojake - February 12, 2010, 10:36 am

LOI no problem

Under password it says to: What ever email you want the logs to go to

You have to put the e-mail you want to logs to be sent to in their or you'll get the error.
