Elites Engineering

Elites Engineering is a new website where people could leak eBooks, Premium accounts, and or cookies, sell their methods, or share the methods for free! The website is hosted on a dedicated server, and the website will not take like 20 - 30 seconds to load. If you want to become a staff member this is what you have to do/know: Read the rules, be experienced with mybb, be nice. No 'corrupt' staff members, try to help us advertise on other websites/forums, have about 5 - 10 posts, and then PM 'propilot' your account will be reviewed if you're accepted you will get a PM, if you are denied you will get a PM with the reason(s). Note:Staff members might get paid, if we make any money from the ads.

Visit Elites Engineering today!

(All of the Elites Engineering are click able.)

No, learn to read. One of the rules clearly states "5. No posting of sites requiring a login to view.", which means that you must have your forum set to public or else your thread will be closed because you don't follow the rules.

How will anybody register if they can't even see what's on. Oh by the way, this is the showcase section, not the "Register on my forum, and you'll view the content section".

The forum design or the banner?

More things that the designer did for us:
