Thread: [\[100% success rate\] any one interested in windows hacker?](#) vveexx - July 15, 2012, 11:23 pm would any one be interested in purchasing a small operating system that allows you to resset/change windows passwords?

works on all versions of windows, allows activation of hidden admin accounts (vista) thinking about selling for $2-$5 and i am wondering if any onw would be interested beffore i start selling

Something like ERD Commander or other similar tool ?

Regards

thank you although all i realy did was copy paste bits of code i compiled it all and made it work so i will take 1/2 the credit for making it

Its not an opsating system then bro. an OS is Vista, Windows 7 and shit like that. You have a bypass program or whatever you call it and i dont think you can just steal code.. maybe you can idk

There is already a free one exist "Hiren's boot CD" to change/reset the password.

i didnt copy it as is i copyd bits from here bits from there and i would call it an operating system with extreamly limited operating capability never heard of it, it will probably be simmilar

Vinster - July 15, 2012, 11:33 pm what do you have to do to use it? i might wanna buy it depending on that

just copy to a usb plug it in and boot off it

King~ - July 15, 2012, 11:51 pm

Isn't there a operating system that does this? I think it is ophcrack

This is a good idea but the concept has been done before. For example, with backtrack you can dump the sam and system files and crack the hashes (more simple than it sounds. Requires like 5 lines of code) or you can boot your computer with kon-boot and bypass admin passwords. While you're there you can make a new admin account. So as much as Hackers appreciate your effort, it has been done before. But dont give up hope!

the main point of this was to make a small 5mb operating system that would let me back into my computer, it doesnt crack the password it just replaces it hopefully somone will like it perhaps i should givout a vouch copy..

does any onw know a good site i can upload files to from my phone
