Let me explain

Scammers

- 1 . A confidence game or other fraudulent scheme, especially for making a quick profit; swindle.
- 2 . to cheat or defraud with a scam.

In our words a (scammer) is someone who cheats somebody out of their money or takes something from another user when the situation was supposed to be a Buy and give situation but they buyer was never delivered there item they paid for. This Thread is something i wanted to make so we could crack down on scammers and bust them.

What this is here for is to establish a easy way to know who's scamming or not and it up to date throughout the days i will post scammers on here and have a list of these selfish users on this site.

The only way you can add a scammer to this list to post the situation and item you got scammed out of and post proof of them scam.

Post there

Username here and provide proof.

There is already a website for this. This thread is pointless and that is what the deal dispute section is for. Just close the thread.

Someone has already created a database of scammers on hackforums.
