ThrDude is the original seller and he is very HQ.

Last time I checked, saying that the source is bullshit without even looking at it and asking for the source without paying is scamming. Exactly what you did to me and then you gave me neutral rep saying I scammed you and backed out of the "deal" even though there was no deal. You were trying to steal my source and you still have the RAR file that is password protected, and I assure you that you will never get that password. I have the entire convo between you and me and I will use this proof against you.
