Hello everyone,

I've been working on this forums for a long time now. Actually I already had a forums but then deleted it because I wanted to switch over to MyBB.

Basically it's a Gaming, Science, and Technology Forums. (Science still hasn't been decided yet.)

It is going to have many features, and the forums will definitely be a great place to hang out, discuss interesting topics etc...

I have posted on my blog about the upcoming forums.

Read here: <http://www.akshayproductions.com/blog/news/ap-forums-release-date-features/>

There will be promotions for registering early and contests for referring.

I will open registration on August 1st.

Post below on what you think about the forums! Also, you can comment on the blog post I gave you.

The theme isn't that unique, however I do like where you moved the navigation to (Right top corner) that looks neat.

Good luck with the forums!

Thanks :) The top-right navigation makes is easier to navigate!

Akshay, I dislike your forum.

You've had it for nearly a month now and you have made on 2 posts, at least put some effort in and make around 100 posts, 30 threads or so before opening the forum.

But now, I seem to think your forum is going to fail.

Akshay2598 - July 30, 2012, 10:09 am

Actually I've had it for much longer. I've been working with all the plugins to make it perfect. I don't think creating 100 posts myself would be a good idea. And I only have 1 thread on this forums(The renovated one).

I am the owner of a gaming forum so I understand how difficult it is to start out, but let me tell you that the best way to get new members is to do something unique. Get a unique theme, have a unique giveaway. Just some suggestions, hope all works out for you.

Akshay2598 - August 1, 2012, 12:19 pm

Yeah, thanks for the suggestion! I also hope it works out! :)
