This is probably one of my favorites. It took me most of the day to complete this project but I'm very happy with the result. Please tell me what you think and sorry for the inactivity once again!

This is good man; I really enjoyed it. I liked the concept as well. I think that the way you did the transition could of been a lot better though. It seems a little generic to use the push transition. If that was changed a little bit, I would of loved it. I feel that since he's running, some sort of motion blur should occur when changing backgrounds. Have you ever heard of BCC 7 or BCC 8? That pack has alot of cool VFX and transitions you could try out. The one that came to mind to me was swish pan. I made a .GIF to show you how that looks.

Lol, I found a cool little skit on youtube that is all about swish pan. I actually enjoyed that. You can check that out if you want as well.

lol, I watched it like 5 times with HD full screen; hardly noticed it. I paused it and I did see it there. BCC 7 is Boris Continuum Complete for Sony Vegas and After Effects. It's pretty incredible what effects they have to offer. They are currently at BCC 8. Just youtube/google it and try out the free trial. I also have the link for the full version if you wanna get it for free.
