Eminence Recruitment & Membership Sales

What is Eminence?

We're a group of knowledgeable members, in the areas of networking, security, web mastering, and more.

We constantly teach others, and learn from each other as well. We are more of a free roam group and are not focused on one specific subject in web fundamentals.

Group Userbar

If your application is deemed perfect you will receive Free membership.

If your application is deemed acceptable you will receive the opportunity for Paid membership.

To have a better chance at getting in the group, make sure your application is detailed and unique. Do not private message leaders if your application has not been dealt with. Applications will be reviewed in a timely manner.

If declined, feel free to reapply in 2 (two) weeks unless instructed otherwise.

Do not apply via the User CP or you will be blacklisted from the group.

Rules and Regulations

- Spoiler (Click to View)
1. All members of the group must abide by the official HackForums rules.
 2. You must post five times a week in the sub-forum.
 3. Stay on topic, and don't spam on any of the threads unless told otherwise.
 4. Rules that are within proper moral and conduct all apply in this sub-forum.
 5. If you leave, make sure you really want to because you can't return on your own terms.
 6. You may not leak any content that is within Eminence with members from outside of the group. If you get caught leaking or sharing content with other members you shall be kicked and blacklisted from the group.
 7. You must respect all members of the group.
 8. You must read the threads before you post in them.
 9. No making unnecessary threads such as introduction or birthday threads.
 10. You must remain in the class you sign up for.
 11. Do not abuse the "Report" button. If it doesn't need to be reported, then don't report it.
 12. Think before you act.
 13. Be respectful to the members of the group. Flaming or bullying will not be tolerated.
 14. If you feel that another member is breaking the rules please notify any of the group leaders.
 15. If you become limited or your account gets banned you will be removed from the group.

16. No cross-posting other threads from other groups.
17. No bullshit; if you start it, you're gone.
18. You are not allowed to sell items or services in the sub-forum.
19. If you receive three warnings you will be kicked from the group. WiFi. is the only person that can give warnings.
20. If you got a suggestion or an opinion about something, come to the meetings and talk.
21. Follow the rules listed above and you will enjoy your time, and make ours easier.

ToS

Any member that purchases their way into the group, agrees to the terms listed on this thread and will abide by them. 1: The users that bought their way into the group will follow the rules in the sub forum in the thread titled "Handbook." The rules are also posted here above this ToS in a spoiler, so make sure to view them before purchasing. 2: After purchasing, there will be no refunds for any reason whatsoever. Any reversal on a payment will result in an immediate kick from the group and a scam report will be made. Other actions may occur. 3: Members that get reported for scamming will be watched and if enough evidence is shown, they will get kicked from the group with no refund. 4: I can not be held responsible for any of the actions that any members in the group perform. If someone scams you that is in the group then you can report them to me and I will do as listed in rule 3. 5: If you buy the group just for the userbar, you still have to follow the rules in the handbook and the rules above (they are the same thing) so don't buy into the group unless you know that you are able to follow the rules. 6: Purchasing an entry is NOT the only way to join the group. Every so often we open recruitment so that you may get in the group via application. 7: The money will go back towards the group for the contests, hosting, etc. 8: Members can be approved or denied the ability to pay to get in the group by the group leaders.

What areas of knowledge are you most interested in? Web Security, programming and webmastery.

Do you have any experience in networking, website security, programming, or webmastery? Yes, I run EmpireRevenue.net and DollarFiles.net (one of the most popular PPD websites). I have a good amount of experience in Website security and webmastery.

Why do you deserve to be a part of the group? I'm friendly to all users and would like to learn a little more about some topics.

How can you contribute to the group? A lot of tutorials, especially about setting up and securing websites.

Any additional comments? Thanks for taking the time to read my application!

No it doesn't. When in a group you should wear the group userbar with pride, but it's an hard task if the groups userbar is ugly.

If you care more about the userbar than the group, personally I don't think you deserve it.

The group userbar isn't ugly it may be slightly plain.

Lastly This is recruitment thread, discussion on the userbar and other subjects following this post will be reported.

I know HTML other then that i dont know but i am willing to learn fast.

Why do you deserve to be a part of the group?

I chose to apply for this group because i meet all of the qualifications I am looking for a good helping group to one a another. I want to be in a group where we are all like family and respect one a another, and this seems to be a great match. After applying for 3 other groups i was denied for low post count probably , I am really impressed with this group, and feel that it is something I would be proud to a part of. And I am truly passionate about Eminence.

I am very confident that, i can handle my self in this group. I am willing to take more reposibilities. I am higlyhly motivated.I am fast leaner who adapt quality to change and will hit the ground running. I am dedicated and enthusiastic about helping in my section to meet its goals and will provide top quality results with minimal oversight. I am an outstanding performer.

How can you contribute to the group?

I'm a hard worker and will contribute any thing that i can.

I can be flexible with my hours to fill in where you need me.

My ability to work well in a group.

I can bring my personal experience and open minded perspective to interact positively with other members of the group.

Any additional comments?

I would have bought my self in to Eminence to show the support to the leaders but i dont have a C.C.

Minecraft Client Programming

Basic HTML and Website Development

GIMP2 - PhotoEditing

Sony Vegas & After Effects - Video Editing (Montages, Trailers, Teasers)

FL Studio - Audio Editing, Music, Dubstep

Money Making

Monetizing

I am Interested in: Web Security

Web Development

Networking

Basic Hacking

Do you have any experience in networking, website security, programming, or webmastery?

I have experience in website development and Java Programming (Mostly Game Development and Minecraft). I have taken classes and studied many topics about Java Game Development in school as well as extra classes out of school. I know the basics of HTML and Web Development. I am currently still learning more about HTML and CSS.

Why do you deserve to be a part of the group?

I think I deserve to be in this group because I am a determined and dedicated member. I have contributed a lot to HF by posting HQ Threads that helps out the community. (One Example is this) Like I said, I am a very dedicated member. I will do my duties without hesitation and to my greatest ability. I believe that becoming a member of this group, I will improve my skills as a Java Game Developer and Web Developer.

My Tutorial: <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=2632782>

How can you contribute to the group?

I can contribute by keeping close ties to each member along with being a dedicated member. As I said before, I will do my duties without hesitation and to my greatest ability. I will only post threads that are helpful or can improve the Community. I can also contribute by helping others with Java or Basic HTML. I am also a friendly member who tries his best to keep others happy. As a dedicated member, I can also help raise funds to pay off the group (if it hasn't already been paid). I have been raising funds for The Creed ever since I have been accepted. Along with that, I am a pretty decent Photo, Video, and Audio Editor. I have had 2+ years experience as a Photo Editor, 1 year as a Video Editor, and 6 months as an Audio Editor. I can easily make GFX for the group, as well as create High Quality Videos for the group.

Any additional comments?

I would like to join this group because I would like to improve my skills in Web Development. Staying dedicated is what being a member is all about. And this is what I live by. I try my best to stay dedicated and help others. I do all my duties as quickly as possible, yet at the same time as best quality as possible.

You have my word that I will follow and abide by all rules stated on this thread.

Edit: I just noticed, Formula1, that we are part of the Creed :) Hopefully you notice my contributions to The Creed. I will contribute greatly to Eminence.

What areas of knowledge are you most interested in? Webmaster, Gaming, and Coding

Do you have any experience in networking, website security, programming, or webmastery? I've been administrating forums since 2009 with the biggest being 56k posts and 7k+ members. I also know a bit of programming, HTML specifically. I'm not very good at it but that is why I would love to join Eminence so that I can learn.

Why do you deserve to be a part of the group? I'm a 2 year old member, active poster, always helping people with their problems, and I am always opening people with kindness. I am not mean, violent, etc. I love to help people, especially in the graphics section, though I'm not good, I rather learn doing free GFX than having people pay.

How can you contribute to the group? I can host giveaways, help people, and tons of other things in the name of Eminence.

Do you have any experience in networking, website security, programming, or webmastery?

I have quite a vast majority of experience in the 4 subjects stated.

Why do you deserve to be a part of the group?

I believe I deserve to be in Eminence because I'm 17 and basically wanting to learn more than I already know. I have been on HF for a long time now and wanting to join a team of member's who I could benefit from. Also Personally I think I deserve to be in Eminence because I see myself as a pretty HQ member and I have pretty basic knowledge in a variety of things. I also have basic knowledge to help/assist others. I also have the patience to help other's and would also love to learn things that I don't know already.

How can you contribute to the group?

I think I can help contribute to the group by helping fellow HF members any possible manor. I can also share my knowledge of things I already know.

What areas of knowledge are you most interested in? The subjects of this group are very interesting. I do not have a lot of experience in any of the subjects except for webmastery. Anyone who knows me is well aware of my eagerness to learn, and I see Eminence as the best gateway to learn in these fields. I am very interested in learning programming, security, and adding to my knowledge of webmastery. While tutorials for these subjects are online, I do not believe that they will be as beneficial or extensive as the ones listed in the tutorial index.

Do you have any experience in networking, website security, programming, or webmastery? I have some experience in webmastery as I previously mentioned. I have taken a web design class at school, and since then have taken matters into my own hands and furthered my skills by following guides and naturally learning on my own. I have been the administrator of a medium-sized gaming forum for the past year, so I understand basic web security and server-side management. I find the idea of developing and programming to be exciting and if I joined the group then my knowledge in those fields will significantly increase.

Why do you deserve to be a part of the group? While I may have less knowledge then other members who are part of this group, you will find my desire to improve my skills. At that point, I will be able to assist other new members who are fortunate enough to be part of Eminence.

How can you contribute to the group? Trust me when I say, that my ambition will lead me to help any member to the best of my ability. If you were to look at my topic history, you will notice that since the beginning of my HackForums experience, I have been posting tutorials without any surveys or limitations. I believe that everyone should have access to the material that I have to give, regardless of their ability to pay for an upgraded membership or the ability to complete a survey. One of my most notable giveaways has saved HF members over $50,000 which allowed them to start their own website. The giveaway can be found here:

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=2035005>

If I were accepted into Eminence, I would bring exclusive guides in fields that I am knowledgeable about, and will develop new guides and tutorials once I am proficient in the fields relevant to the members of Eminence.

If you would like to see some more of the giveaways that I have done, they can be found here:

What areas of knowledge are you most interested in?

Website Security, Webmastery. These two areas appeal to me the most, because I have little knowledge of them, and I believe that these will be very helpful/resourceful in the future of my virtual world.

Do you have any experience in networking, website security, programming, or webmastery?

I have experience in networking, and programming, and expanding my knowledge in related/other fields by learning different languages of code, as well as in the process creating my own forum/website.

Why do you deserve to be a part of the group?

I am different from every other member applying because of the way I perform and present myself on the forums. I am very trusted, educated and I provide a positive atmosphere around other members/peers. I strive on success and approval, and anything I do I provide more than is expected. I feel that if I were to be accepted in to this group I can do more for myself and the community then what I am currently doing now. I feel that I am a step(s) ahead of the other person. I treat this forum not only as a hobby, obsession, playground, but a classroom, a workplace, a laboratory, which separates me from most members of the community.

How can you contribute to the group?

I am able to support and helps others on a regular basis. I receive many direct PMs from members, asking for support/help, and I try my best answer everyone of them. In my signature it says "Questions or Concerns – PM Me" so I am willingly open with arms, and willing do my best to educate, support, and solve other members problems. I help members through "Inbox", through 3rd party communication, and by posting on their threads. Through my reputation and vouches on my sales threads, one can see that I contribute, and help others excessively throughout the forums.

At times I give back to the community what they have given to me. I hold giveaways and services from time to time.

Any additional comments?

Pretty much everything I would like to include to this application is already located above. One thing I can add is I have no Scam Reports, and have some what of a reputation on HF, I might have actually have this already stated above, but just in case, and for extra emphasis. My contact information is listed below, in my signature, if these is any need or desire to contact me. Thanks for this opportunity to get involved.

Why do you deserve to be a part of the group? Because i want to share my knowledge with the group, i also want to help them out. with their problems etc.

How can you contribute to the group? I can contribute by sharing my knowledge, i got alot to share such as methods, tutorials. i would also do everything i can do help our members.

Any additional comments? Thank you.

Advice - August 15, 2012, 4:37 am

Name:

Hi there, my name is Blic on HF and Andrew in real life.

Age:

I currently do not wish to disclose my age. However, if you're really interested, PM me. :)

What areas of knowledge are you most interested in?

I pertain a variety of skills, however I prioritize the following:

- Marketing
- Programming
- Idea Pioneering

I've been marketing since last (about) last July. In this time I've learned read over many tutorials, methods and guides teaching me the online methods to success. I believe I can harness the guides and classify this ability as a skill.

Programming was the first skill and reason for joining HackForums. I have been programming for over 5 years in multiple languages such as:

- Visual Basic .NET
- Java
- Basic PHP
- Basic HTML

- Basic C++
- Basic C#

Idea Pioneering is another skill I enjoy performing as it allows me to visualize and idealize possible projects, scenarios and more. This can be useful in many ways as it allows new areas to be viewed at from a different perspective.

Do you have any experience in networking, website security, programming, or webmastery?
I mainly focus on programming out of those list of questioned skills, however I am willing to learn more.

Why do you deserve to be a part of the group?

I want to join Eminence so I can not only benefit from the community, but contribute and teach to the community. I am willing to learn new things everyday, yet at the same time to teach new learners of content they have yet been exposed to.

How can you contribute to the group?

I plan to contribute by bringing my knowledge of my current skills to the group's subforum. I can commonly post on almost all forms of topics. I can giveaway, teach and showcase methods regarding or relating to my skills.

Any additional comments?

I'm online for at least an hour every day, but can vary up to 6 hours a session. I currently reside in Australia.

My current time zones are:

- Greenwich Mean Time + 10 hours (GMT +10)
- Eastern Standard Time +10 hours (EST +10)

However, these change when daylight saving comes into place (DSL).

I believe I should be apart of Eminence as it can be a great opportunity for not only the group but for me as a user. I can contribute to the group in ways listed above, yet at the same time learn from other members. I'm willing to accept criticism and always looking for another perspective to view from.

Thank you for taking time out of your busy schedule to review this.
Good luck to the other applicants.

Regards,
Blic

What areas of knowledge are you most interested in?

Networking, programming and Webmastery

Do you have any experience in networking, website security, programming, or webmastery?

Yes I have experience in all the above except for website security, only really security I know is obfuscating code (with the help of people), .htaccess password protection and simple PHP password protection. I help family and friends set up their computers, in a network as well as helping my old highschool fix some issues with people getting into sites that they shouldn't do. I currently own 2 websites that I wish to release, an image hosting website called Imagize and a network site which I'm working on called [\[url=http://www.gamecove.net\]](http://www.gamecove.net)Gamecove`[url]`.

As for webmastery, I know secrets such as SEO, getting traffic to websites without gaining suspicion from AdSense as well as improving website views in a "social" sense, in terms of using social networking websites to get many followers/likes to gain large traffic to a website. As for coding, I know a bit and am able to know what I'm looking at as well as find errors within a code. I'm not a master coder, and so one of the aims of my joining the group will be to help out users which are completely new to coding as well as learn from members who are expert/advanced at coding.

Why do you deserve to be a part of the group?

I've mentioned a lot above in areas that I know, so I'll simply add a list to make it easier for you to see that I'll be good for the group.

I'm High Quality

I've been on this site for a while

I don't troll or flame other members

I'm friendly

I know a lot with computing/programming that would be valuable to other members

I'll be able to make tutorials/eBooks to new members

I have great ideas when it comes to suggestions and that not

How can you contribute to the group?

Help out new members

Give feedback where needed

Help out the leaders

Provide tutorials/ebooks

Being high quality and friendly towards other group members adding to the positive atmosphere

Great suggestions

Any additional comments?

There isn't really much more I can say that I haven't mentioned above. I'm a friendly user who will get along well with the other users in the group. I'll definitely be active in the subforum and will do all that I can to help out the leaders as well as other members who much be facing issues in areas that I'm familiar with. By adding me into the group, I'll promise you won't regret it, nor am I applying just for the userbar.

What areas of knowledge are you most interested in? Coding, Web Security, Wireless Systems, SQLi, and Hardware Customization

Do you have any experience in networking, website security, programming, or webmastery? Yes, I've made dozens of websites, I know HTML, CSS, Python, .NET, C++, and several other languages I'm still mastering.

Why do you deserve to be a part of the group? Because I have a great interest in the fields this group is focused on, and already have a good amount of experience. I'd like to master my skills with the help of this group.

How can you contribute to the group? I can do whatever is needed from me. I can do giveaways on behalf of the group, make helpful tutorials, and stay very active in the subforum with HQ post. I will also represent the group to others as very HQ. I will contribute to this group in the same way I have with HF overall:

What areas of knowledge are you most interested in? I've been learning web-mastering in general for quite some time. My skills that apply to what you're looking for currently would be Web-Mastering, Basic but dynamic web-development, internet security and server management. Now mind you, I am not as good as everyone else in these areas of expertise, but having the opportunity to improve my skills is great!

Do you have any experience in networking, website security, programming, or webmastery? Yes actually, beyond minimal. I'm not a "Master" of web-mastering but I know my way around a server! ;]

Why do you deserve to be a part of the group? I feel that I deserve to be a part of the group because I am an aspiring web-master. I donate many hours of my day to learning these skills as diverse. I have other skills as well as web-mastering but I focus on this because I find it the most interesting. Being in a group environment with similar people would be fantastic.

How can you contribute to the group? My skills and knowledge of course. I can offer everyone my development skills free of charge. I'll always be around for help when someone needs it. I'm very active.

Any additional comments? Thank you for taking the time to review my application. I look forward to hearing results!

Designer's Application:

Name: Designer

Age: 17

What areas of knowledge are you most interested in?

The areas which I know most of are HTML, CSS and just 'webmastery' in general. With this I mean maintaining a website, coding it (+ designing), but also maintaining forums, setting them up, etc. Obviously, because I have knowledge about these subjects I am also interested in them. However; I am also interested in the other areas of Eminence, because I am always open to things I can learn (such as networking, programming and security).

Do you have any experience in networking, website security, programming, or webmastery?

I have experience with programming websites (HTML & CSS) & webmastery. About forum(s) (software); I have most experience with MyBB, but also with SMF, IPB and a little with vBulletin.

I have tried to learn Java in the past, but I was very busy in real life, so I did not have that much time. I pretty much forgot everything about this.

Why do you deserve to be a part of the group?

I think I deserve to be a part of Eminence, because I am willing to help people in the areas which I know most of. I might be able to write tutorials for these areas, or simply be active and try to provide as much help as I can.

I'm also someone who is motivated and willing to learn new things. I can teach the things I learn from here. Learning > teaching.

How can you contribute to the group?

I can contribute to the group by being active and kind/helpful to people. That's the main thing. A different way to contribute could be by writing tutorials or/and sharing exclusive methods/tutorials to Eminence only.

What areas of knowledge are you most interested in?

Website exploitation, Online anonymity and security, VPN hosting, Graphics design, Monetizing and Social Engineering.

Do you have any experience in networking, website security, programming, or webmastery?

I do have knowledge in website security and programming. Regarding programming and coding, I see this group as the perfect gateway for new knowledge and developing of my skillset.

Why do you deserve to be a part of the group?

It's not for me to decide whether I deserve to be part of the group or not, it's solely for the leaders to decide; with that being said I think I deserve to be part as I'm very motivated to learn new things, sharing the things I possess and teach others the things I already know.

How can you contribute to the group?

I believe I can contribute to the group in several ways:

- First of all I can help other members with their problems, and teach them the things I've already mastered.
- I'll write high quality tutorials, teaching from my skillset.
- I'll be hosting giveaways and contests giving away products I've got or cash prizes.
- I'll be donating to the leaders of Eminence, as a 'Thank you' for keeping the group alive and making everything possible.
- I'm experienced in animated graphics and I can, if needed, create high quality thread designs with captivating animations. (Click here for some examples of animations).

Any additional comments?

I was drawn toward the high quality of the group; I value this greatly and I'm hoping for allowance.

I've wanted to share some tutorials and give away some cash prizes for some time, but I've put that on hold as I didn't feel like just giving things out to random members who doesn't even appreciate nor deserve it - your subforums would be a perfect place for me to hand out such things as I know they will appreciate it.

I'll be looking forward to teaching other members from my skillset and hopefully also learn a lot from the other members skillset - we can't all master everything, but I'm hoping that with membership of this group, and the sharing of our knowledge, we can all develop into more ingenious individuals.

Strike - August 19, 2012, 4:50 am

Name: Strike

Age: 17

What areas of knowledge are you most interested in?

I'm interested in a broad number of topics, I'll do my best to list some of the ones I'm most interested in:

Coding (Python, Java, C#, web-languages)

Hardware (building, maintaining, keeping on top of the current market)

Design (Graphic, web)

Networks (efficiency, security, setup, the web)

Security(Virus removal, guarding against attack)

Do you have any experience in networking, website security, programming, or webmastery?

I've designed and ran several sites in the past, mostly for small businesses or gaming related things. In addition to this, I have undertaken to render the websites as secure as possible. This includes protecting, to the best of my ability, the site from SQLi attacks and the like. I have learnt Python, Java, HTML, PHP and snippets of a few other web languages to varying degrees of competency.

Why do you deserve to be a part of the group?

I really think I could contribute in a meaningful way, I'll outline how in the next section. Throughout my fairly long time on HF, my activity has risen and dropped. I've never had a really good reason to continue posting. I think a group would give me a reason to remain active, this would be beneficial for both myself and the group.

How can you contribute to the group?

I can write tutorials on many different things.

I can offer advice and tips with regard to hardware related problems.

I can provide technical support, be that virus removal or something network related.

I'd happily do the odd giveaway.

I can offer help that pertains to anything I've said I'm interested in.

Any additional comments?

I don't really have too much to say, I guess I can give a little more general information about myself :)

I've setup a small business, this business builds and sells custom PC's.

I'm in my last year at school.

I hope to study law when I leave.

Regards,

Strike

What areas of knowledge are you most interested in? I am very interested in Programming, and somewhat graphics. I spent a lot of time within the Programming sections, trying to decide my path. And i believe i have.

Do you have any experience in networking, website security, programming, or webmastery? Yeah I have been within multiply languagues like Python, Java, C++ , C#, javascript and php. Currently learning java as the main language on the moment of this writing.

Why do you deserve to be a part of the group? I'm not sure why i deserve it. I have a nice attitude, i LOVE meeting new people. I'm somewhat active all over these forums. Trying to help with everything i could. I have not made many enemies here, maybe one. But i have made many friends.

How can you contribute to the group? I would say Activity. I love making threads about things that i need solution on. And discuss it with people to figure out the best solution. I love to discuss over all. But I'm no attention whore. So I have manners.

Any additional comments? I may not have the best application, but give me a chance and I'll try my best to prove that I'm worth to let in. Thanks a lot for giving me the oppertunity to join Eminence.
