Thread: Financial Domination/Money Pig

We've all heard of a dominatrix, right?...

They'll call you names, whip you till you bleed, tie you up, and then stuff all your holes with plugs... and they do it because they get off on it. Obviously the man does too, otherwise he wouldn't come crawling back for more.

The world is filled with sick fetishes and more types of domination than I can really list here. The one I want to bring up to you guys right now though, is "Financial Domination".

There are men out there (believe it or not) that actually GET OFF on giving women money.

To take advantage of this and get your very own "Money Pig", you'll need more than pedo pics. You're going to have to get your hands on a large collection of racy photos. A good looking woman in her 20's to 30's should do it.

You give them the PLEASURE of earning a special photo of you if they please you enough with the gifts they send you.

The Pros:

These men are WILLING which means more money to you and less legal trouble.

They get off on giving and pleasing their mistress.

These men tend to be older with secure incomes and actually put aside money to spend on their mistress.

You generally can make a lot more over time with significantly less effort than with traditional e-whoring methods.

The Cons:

It involves a huge commitment on your part, rather than a couple emails before cutting the ties.

It involves a lot more creativity on your part.

Remember, there are women getting all their bills paid by their Money Pigs. Take this information and profit off it. I have not personally done this, but I do know this exists and it's more common than you'd imagine.

You may make $10 here and $10 there with traditional methods, but finding a Money Pig and talking to him just a little bit every day may result in $100 or more easy money each week. (Imagine having more than one of them!)

I apologize for not including an actual method, but I think the vast majority of you can take this information and make some good money.

UPDATE: I did spend the day looking for a guy and I managed to snag one off Craigslist. I'm making an Amazon wishlist and am planning on presenting it to him tomorrow. LoL
