Give it time, read as much as you can. If confused about technical terms or processes just ask us.. Oh and never e-mail me asking what you just asked in your post. Cool to have you here, but keep in mind I am a professional at work and can't get spammed by newbies asking for help.

start by reading old threads and trying the tricks out.. If you get stuck then ask... Actually finish the hack-test first.

lol you dont pay for it.... You view the code and try to crack the password... when you pass the first level it gets harder. you have 20 levels.
