Thread: Are they aloud to do this?

Goml . - August 19, 2012, 6:03 pm

Okay so I bought into the group Eminence ,I know lame. But I did so I can learn about coding... i read 2 posts per day in a thread there and it said a minimum of 2 post or something or you get kicked. So I posted twice because I wanted to not get kicked and learn when I got back to my main comp.. This was the day I bought in. Then the next day I was inactive .. Because I wasn't on my main still , had to wait to get back home from aunts house. And I was inactive in the "group" section . Apparently WiFi (the owner I think) made a thread saying like if you don't post here you are Kicked. Are they aloud to kick me? I figured I would ask for a refund. Because I saw a tutorial on how to code and it was to hard for me. Are they aloud to just fuckin kick me after one day of being inactive , THE DAY after I bought in? Thts fucked up. He also refused me a refund. Is this right? (Formula1)

If their requirement is to post a minimum of 2 posts every day, then yes.
It's simple. If you don't meet that requirement, then you're kicked.

Goml . - August 19, 2012, 6:08 pm

But I told Formula I was inactive because I was on a Different comp. like wtf. I paid to get in. And now I was removed 2 days later

So you notified a leader of your inactivity a day or so before you went inactive?
That doesn't seem right for them to kick you if so.

DeadlyVermilion - August 19, 2012, 6:09 pm

All the 'Groups' and crews on HF are just jumped up little kids who think they have power by being in one. It seems like a waste of money to be honest, try get your money back and then don't bother applying to a new one. Especially if it costs money when the knowledge you will get from being in it is hardly anything.

Wigan - August 19, 2012, 6:09 pm

I think that's unfair, if they removed you I think your entitled to a refund.

No I did after. No one informed of this . No one said ANYTHIG to me about in activity after mY 2 post. I just don't see why they can't like pm me or some shit.

Also sorry on my shitty posts. I am on mobile.

Well, it's your job to notify a leader of your to-be inactivity.
There were no stickies or threads about inactivity in their subforum?

Renowned - August 19, 2012, 6:14 pm

I got removed for beating WiFi on omgpop pool.

not gay - August 19, 2012, 6:15 pm

Based on what it sounds like, I think it's allowed, but not cool.

Revenge - August 19, 2012, 6:16 pm

That seems strange if you requested inactivity bud. If you didn't they would be well entitled. But it's still their group at the end of the day.

But think about it . Would you do it if you PAID TO Get in to fucking learn. And we're going to be inactive for one damn say? Honestly I would love to here someone say they would.

NieR - August 19, 2012, 6:17 pm

Yes they are allowed to do that. It is their group, their rules.

'Cody - August 19, 2012, 6:17 pm

They have an inactivity thread. If you did not post in the thread, they're allowed and will kick you.

Honestly from what I'm hearing, I think the leaders were entitled to the kick.
Yes you pay to get in, but I would think they'd expect you to follow their guidelines.

Cody8295 - August 19, 2012, 6:18 pm

Are you allowed to misspell the word allowed?

But I was gone for one day. Why would I go to the sub forum the day I don't wanna learn something?

Oats??? - August 19, 2012, 6:20 pm

Thats why you join the marketers, green like weed, perfect place to chill hardly any requirments.

Dont have to post everyday, very understanding leaders few members, just like a family.

The point is groups have guidelines that you must follow regardless of reason (unless told otherwise).

I wanna be in so bad lol idk how to and I am not paying for a group ever again.

Also to the people saying they can because it's their rules. Again I was inactive in the thread why would I tell them that one day I was out barely doing stuff. Being with my aunt.

To join the Marketers you pay $50.00

Goml . - August 19, 2012, 6:35 pm

I need money for IRL stuff.

And I wanted to get out since I couldn't learn what I wanted. Anyways duck it I am not getting what I paid for. Should've just PM'ed me since it was to be noted and I didn't see anything that day.

Kantos - August 19, 2012, 7:17 pm

Seems like a good way to scam people. Take their money and then kick them for the smallest offense.

Goml . - August 19, 2012, 7:30 pm

Thank you for agreeing with me . Ugh i hate this :/

Hexicidal - August 19, 2012, 9:05 pm

Open a Deal Dispute on the groupsnd leader who removed you. If you alerted the leader of your inactivity, you should have not been removed. Not at all. If you were active in any other section, yet were not active in the Eminence subforum, then your removal is justifiable.

Goml . - August 19, 2012, 9:07 pm

Gunna close this now .

Thanks everyone.
